FELL IN LOVE DURING ILLNESS

Woman Declares She Does Not Want to Go Back to Her Husband

After eluding her pursuing husband for three weeks Mrs. William Wren, who eloped with William Wilcave and came to this city June 14, was captured by her husband and Patrolman Arneson last night as she stepped out of one of the carnival shows on Market square in company with the man she has been living with in this city. Mrs. Wren and Wilcave were taken to central police station where they are being held pending the arrival of a deputy sheriff from Minneapolis. They will be taken to Minneapolis tomorrow to stand trial on a statutory charge.

No Trace at First

Mr. Wren arrived in La Crosse on Wednesday seeking the erring wife whom he was informed by another woman had come to this city with Wilcave. Although he made diligent search for the missing couple, he furnished the police with their description until last night when he saw them go into a show at the carnival. Wren had been wandering through the carnival crowd for more than an hour when he suddenly spied the couple in the wrong before one of the shows. He watched them until they followed the crowd inside one of the tents when he secured the aid of Patrolman Arneson. They watched the tent until the show ended and effected the capture as the couple came outside. The couple took to the police station without protest.

According to the story of the woman who deserted her home, husband and four small children for another man, Wilcave lived with Mr. and Mrs. Wren at 1325 Nicollet avenue, Minneapolis, and she fell in love with him when he nursed her back to health from a protracted illness. Both her husband and Wilcave are painters and worked at the same place in Minneapolis. Wilcave boarded with his friend, Wren. When Mrs. Wren became ill with an affection in her arm, Wilcave professed a little skill in nursing and was allowed to take care of her.

Worked For Same Firm

It was during her illness that the guilty love sprang into life and as soon as she became able to leave her bed the pair eloped to La Crosse where Wilcave procured employment with a local painting firm. A strange feature in the case is that Wren yesterday hired out to the same firm without knowing that Wilcave was also working for the same employers. He was not sure Wilcave and his wife were in La Crosse until he saw them at the carnival.

When the trio were questioned by the police today, Mrs. Wren declared that she did not want to go back to her husband. She asserted that he had driven her to her rash act by

ROMANCE STARTED BY NAME ON CIGARRETTE SMASHED BY "MOVIES"

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 27.—The romance of Edward Kimbrough of York, Neb., and Miss May Lauck of St. Louis, which began when Kimbrough bought a package of cigarette papers upon one of which Miss Lauck had written her name and address, apparently is permanently closed.

Kimbrough has returned to York and the former Miss Lauck is living at the home of her mother.

Before long Kimbrough told his bride he never could learn to like St. Louis, was tired of the treatment he was getting and would do all he could to aid her in getting a divorce.

The separation came as the result of Kimbrough's refusal to take his bride to a picture show. She went alone and was upbraided by her husband for leaving him. A quarrel ensued which resulted in his leaving the house. The next morning he called upon her to tell her that Nebraska looked good to him after a brief visit to St. Louis.

Kimbrough and Miss Lauck were married a few days ago, after a correspondence courtship growing out of the name on the cigarette papers.

MINNEAPOLITANS SLAVES TO HEROIN

More Than a Dozen Clubs

the City

DRUG DERIVATIVE OF OPIUM

Victim Craves Society and Is Seldom Alone
in His Debauch

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 27.—That scores of Minneapolis men and women are slaves to heroin was the startling fact brought to the attention of city officials today, when the parents of David Viail, 29, asked to have him committed to a state farm for inebriates. For two years the youth has been a slave to heroin. He has wasted away until he is little more than a skeleton. Physicians say a heroin fiend seldom lives longer than five years.

A reporter investigating Viail's story, located a cheap saloon which is known as "The Snow Bird's Nest." Twenty fiends were in the place and when the reporter flashed a bottle of heroin he was besieged by the "snowbirds" all clamoring for him to share his precious tablets.

It was revealed by the fiends that they had formed a club of twenty, each being bound by oath to furnish "snow" to the others whenever he has any money. More than a dozen "snow clubs" are known to be in operation in Minneapolis. Many of the members are high school students and members of good families.

While heroin is a derivative of opium similar to morphine, it is colder in its effect. About twice as much "snow" is required to give the same effect as a dose of morphine. A peculiar feature of the drug is that its victim always craves society and seldom is alone when he goes on a debauch.

FAMOUS HURDLER ELOPES.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—John P. Nicholson, famous Missouri university athlete, is at home with his bride instead of training in Chicago for the American Olympic games, following his elopement and marriage at Washington, Mo., last night to Miss Gladys Hunt of this city. Hunt was a member of the last Olympic team and has equalled the record for high hurdles.

WILSON LEAVES CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Wilson accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and their daughters, will leave here late today for Cornish, N. H., for a brief vacation. The length of the president's stay will depend on congress. If both houses agree to a recess over July 4, then the executive will not return until a week from next Monday.

LOST GIRL FOUND

NEW YORK, June 27.—Completely exhausted after spending two nights in the open in Fort Washington park, Helen McCarty, 16 year old daughter of John A. McCarty, wealthy newspaper broker, was sleeping soundly in her parents' apartment at the Hotel Hargrave today. Her father declared the child was not in a serious condition.

REPORTED IS PROMISED OFFICE

torneyship

WASHINGTON, June 27.—It was generally accepted today that President Wilson will nominate Thomas E. Hayden United States district attorney at San Francisco to succeed District Attorney McNab, who resigned as a result of the Caminetti scandal.

Hayden and Matt J. Sullivan, who were last night appointed special prosecutors of both the so-called white slave and the Western Fuel prosecutions, are to push the prosecutions immediately. Hayden was a candidate to succeed McNab, and it is believed here that he had agreed to accept the appointment as special prosecutor only after he had been told that he would be made the permanent district attorney.

Lack of a quorum today again prevented any action being taken by the house judiciary committee on the Kahn resolution, ordering Attorney General McReynolds to submit all papers to the house in the Diggins-Caminetti and Western Fuel company cases.

Sims Blames McReynolds

Attorney General McReynolds' name was injected into the house debate today when Representative Sims of Tennessee, explaining why he received suggestions regarding the commerce court from Walter D. Hines, general counsel for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, said that he had only done so on the explicit suggestion of the attorney general. Sims replied to an attack circulated by a local attorney, who wrote Representative Clayton suggesting an investigation to ascertain whether there was not a lobby against continuance of the commerce court. Sims produced all his correspondence with Hines and said he had first heard of Hines through a letter from McReynolds, urging that he pay attention to the railroad man's suggestion.

BISMARCK, N. D., June 27.—Two years each in Leavenworth and fines of $2,000 was the sentence meted out late last night to Sam H. Clark and Clarence Crookard, editors and business manager of Jim Jam Jems, a sensational monthly magazine. An appeal will probably be taken.

The men were convicted on two counts of nine indictments for transporting obscene literature. The magazine was alleged to have been shipped to Twin City dealers by express. Nineteen Twin City dealers are now awaiting trial on the charge of selling the magazine.

WIN FIGHT FOR CUSTOMS AGENCY

Eight Year Contest to Keep La Crosse District Separate Is Won

BREWERIES PROTEST THE ORDER

Make Complaint of Hindrance to Business by Consolidating with Milwaukee

A fight lasting more than eight years was won by business interests of La Crosse today by a decision of the United States treasury department to retain the United States customs agency in this city. A telegram announcing the decision was received by Congressman John J. Esch from J. F. Curtis, assistant secretary of the treasury department, this morning.

The order to consolidate the La Crosse customs district with the Milwaukee district was signed eight years ago but did not go into effect because of protests made by the breweries of this city and the railroads having division headquarters here. The protests resulted in several investigations by the treasury department and the decision to keep the office here today was made consequent to the presentation of arguments by Congressman Esch.

Did Not Warrant Expense

According to the treasury department officials interested in the abolishment of the agency here, the volume of business handled by the local office did not warrant the necessary expenditures in salaries and other expenses. In pursuance to a policy of economy the department ordered the consolidation of a large number of the customs districts throughout the United States.

As soon as it was learned that the department proposed to take the agency from La Crosse, business interests of this city organized a movement to have it retained here. What was apparently the final order was signed the third of last March, the day before he went out of office, ordering the La Crosse district consolidated with the Milwaukee office.

Congressman Esch immediately took steps to have the order countermanded and presented the arguments of the business interests of this district in support of his contention that it should be retained.

Convenience Here

La Crosse breweries split between sixty and seventy car loads of beer annually to Canada alone and it is a great convenience to have these cars sealed by the treasury officials at the point of shipment. The cars could be inspected and sealed at the Canadian border but this method would result in several days' delay in transportation. The beer is shipped under refrigeration and any delay in transportation means a considerable increase in expense. The La Crosse brewery export business is rapidly increasing.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads have division headquarters and car repair shops here and it is often necessary to send cars under seal to the repair shops. The railroad officials contended that they should be allowed to open cars at the shops here under the supervision of a treasury official. If the customs agency was taken away from here these cars would be sent to Milwaukee for repair thus making a delay of several days in the transportation of the freight.

Motor Boats Inspected

Congressman Esch presented the further argument that there are 440 motorboats in the port of La Crosse, all of which are under government inspection and the number is rapidly increasing. He argued that it became necessary to send inspectors here from Milwaukee, the nearest port, to handle the harbor business and the railroad car inspection, the expense would be considerably larger than the cost of maintaining the present office in this city. One of the duties of the office is to count the passengers on excursion boats.

Following Congressman Esch's conference with Assistant Secretary Curtis the department promised to make further investigation of the situation and Mr. Smithman of the Milwaukee agency was sent here to make a report. Mr. Esch supplemented this report by appearing before the officials of the Milwaukee agency during a visit to Milwaukee last Memorial day.

Thought Fight Lost

The fact that only yesterday Collector J. S. Medary of this city received a copy of the order consolidating the customs districts and ordering him to turn the business of the La Crosse office over to the Milwaukee agency led to the belief that the fight in protection of La Crosse business interests had been lost. Mr. Esch at once wired the treasury department a final protest and asked for a definite order. The answer which came today is as follows:

"Washington, D. C., June 27, 1913. "John J. Esch, M. C., La Crosse, Wis. "Customs agency ordered retained in La Crosse."

La Crosse is the only port on either side of the Mississippi river between Dubuque, Iowa, and St. Paul, Minn., which has a customs collection agency.

HINKY DINK AND PAL BATHHOUSE HAVE ALLY IN NEW "WOMAN BOSS"

CHICAGO, June 27.—"Hinky Dink" Kenna and "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, First ward aldermen, whose jobs were threatened by the successful woman suffrage crusaders, wiped perspiring foreheads and heaved sighs of relief today despite the climb in the thermometer.

A woman defender of the two First warders appeared today. She is Mrs. Annie Carlo-Blassi, for twenty years the undisputed "Queen of Little Italy," and now slated to be the first female "boss" under woman suffrage in the state of Illinois.

The "Queen of Little Italy" is listed in the directory as a midwife. Also she is a professional bondswoman and politician. For several years she has stood at the polls, whispering to the newcomers, "Don't forget Mike and John," and now she plans a Kenna-Coughlin women's organization for the "First."

The first meeting of the "female boss's" forces will be held Sunday under the auspices of the Inconato society, of which Mrs. Carlo-Blassi is president.

"When we get our organization going we'll be in shape to deliver 5,000 women votes," said the new "boss."

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., June 27.—Although he is dying in the hospital here of self-inflicted wounds, James L. Bacon, former member of the legislature, who attempted to commit hari-kari, today denied that he was guilty of murdering his wife and step daughter, who were blown to bits by a dynamite explosion which wrecked their home recently.

While confined in the county jail awaiting trial, Bacon slashed his abdomen and breast in a terrible manner yesterday. Physicians say he cannot survive the day. In a statement to attendants today, Bacon not only denied that he had slain his wife and her daughter, but also denied that he had attempted suicide. He said two masked men entered his cell early yesterday and slashed him.

FINISH I. H. C. TESTIMONY.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Taking of testimony in the government's suit for dissolution of the International Harvester company was finished here today after Special Examiner Taylor of Duluth had heard witnesses at hearings extending over several months and held in half a dozen cities. During that time 1,355 witnesses testified, 1,300 for the company and the others for the government.

ARREST ALLEGED SLAVERS

DANVILLE, Ill., June 27.—Charged with attempting to force young girls to lead immoral lives by locking them in their rooms and keeping them prisoners for several weeks Lulu Shumaker, proprietor of a lodging house and Nellie Shane, employed by the Shumaker woman, were arrested today as alleged white slave.

WESTON FATIGUED.

CRESTON, O., June 27.—Greatly fatigued by the continued hot weather, Edward Payson Weston, walking from New York to Minneapolis, passed through here today enroute to Ashland. He failed in his attempt yesterday to set a day's record of 55 miles from Dayton to Ashland and stopped at Ritman over night.

CYCLONE HITS MINOT

MINOT, N. D., June 27.—Many buildings were damaged and the half completed walls of the power station at the Minot normal school were blown down by a cyclonic storm that struck this city yesterday. The main building of the normal school was among those heavily damaged.

EDMONTON, Alta., June 27.—By the overturning of a gasoline launch in the Saskatchewan river near here, six prominent people of Edmonton are dead today. Those who lost their lives in the accident are R. C. Hooper, manager of the Marshall-Wells company; Mrs. Hooper, his wife; Mrs. Everett Case, wife of the manager of the branch of the Imperial bank here; Earl Meredith, superintendent of the Marshall-Wells company; Mrs. Meredith, his wife, and Robert Patten, mechanic of the launch.

Mrs. Case had just returned with her husband from their honeymoon. Everett Case, who was the only survivor of the party, is prostrated with grief.

DID DOG DIE FOR ANOTHER'S CRIME

pears Again on the South

MAY HAVE BEEN PAL OF BOUNCE

Dog Shot After Capture
Some Time Ago May Be Comrade of Latest Marauder

That "Bounce," the dog criminal shot about a month ago by the police, having been convicted of killing nearly a thousand chickens in the south end of town last winter and spring, may have gone to his death for the guilt of another, is the suspicion aroused today following the report that sixty more chickens were killed during the last three or four nights by a "white shaggy dog." The fact that Bounce was caught in a chicken coup belonging to Herman Kienahs with nine dead fowl lying about him led the police to believe that they had the real criminal "with the goods on him." Bounce was accordingly shot.

Sixty More Killed

Night before last twenty-three chickens belonging to Fred Schultz, Eleventh and Adams streets, were killed by a dog, and according to a story told by south side residents today at least three other coups have been raided in the last three nights, making the total casualty list more than sixty.

The dog has been seen and according to the description he is a big shaggy white animal something like the one that was caught last spring.

A peculiar circumstance connected with the capture of the first dog was the testimony of several poultry owners whose coups had been raided that there were two dogs in the raid. It was believed that one dog stood guard while the other killed the chickens. On several occasions two or three coups were raided in one evening and it is thought that the pair of dogs in their cunning took turns killing the chickens.

Is Bounce's Pal?

It is probable that the dog who killed the chickens this week is the one who accompanied Bounce on his raids last winter and spring.

Bounce belonged to Peter Moran, a blacksmith in the employ of the Gund brewery, and he was a family pet. On several occasions Mr. Moran tied Bounce out in the back yard to guard his chickens from the attack of the raiders. It is said that during the day Bounce mingled with his master's chickens freely and without offering to touch them.

No trace has been found of the new dog raider in spite of a diligent search throughout the southern part of town.

WED WITHOUT PARSON

MANCHESTER, Mass., June 27.—Following their ethical Eugenic marriage on the open beach, without clergyman, best man or bridesmaids, and united under a ritual of their own composing, Robert E. Hutchison of Philadelphia and Miss Della Farley Dana, grand daughter of the poet Longfellow, are today enroute to New Zealand where they will study state socialism.

The marriage of the two is believed to be the first of its kind, both ethical and Eugenic. They have studied each other, their families and their ancestors for some time in order to determine their fitness to have children.

In the ceremony the bride expressed the hope that she would enable her husband to "reach his highest efficiency," while he declared he "hoped his comradeship may help her to live nearer to her ideals of life."

MINGLED WITH NEGRO PLAYERS

Pugilist Donned Old Suit and Got Train at Wisconsin Resort

MONTREAL, June 27.—At the request of Secretary of State Bryan, the Canadian government today ordered the arrest of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, pending his deportation as an undesirable immigrant, if he attempts to remain in the dominion.

Johnson is now in Montreal, having made a sensational flight from Chicago. He wore a false mustache when crossing the border and was not recognized.

It was explained by the dominion authorities this afternoon that Johnson can be arrested and deported only in case he attempts to stay in Canada. He did not enter the dominion as an immigrant, but holding through transportation from the United States to a foreign country via Canada. If he proceeds on his way to France he will not be molested. Johnson has stated that he will sail next Tuesday.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Attorney General McReynolds may be asked today to take steps to stop Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, in his flight to Europe. Johnson is said to be in Montreal, enroute to Paris.

Charles F. De Woody, superintendent of the department of justice, expected to confer with District Attorney Wilkerson today with a view to having the attorney general make a request upon the Canadian government for the detention of the negro and his return to the United States. The federal authorities believe that any request upon the Montreal authorities should be made through official channels at Washington. They believe that the Canadian government would accede to such a request and return the convicted pugilist to the United States as an "undesirable citizen."

Government Ahead

De Woody and the district attorney's office intend to use every means in their power to return the negro to the jurisdiction of the court, there was a feeling in sporting circles today, shared to a certain extent by federal officials, that the government would not be the loser if Johnson fled to Europe, forfeited his $15,000 bond and never returned.

"Johnson is in desperate straits financially," said De Woody. "I know that to be a fact, and I presume that he has seen a chance to get away to Paris and Australia and make some money."

Though Johnson's attorney, Benjamin Bachrach, declared today that the negro's bond could not be declared forfeited until after the court's decision on his appeal, probably next April, De Woody was of a different opinion. If the court was convinced that Johnson had left its jurisdiction the bond might be declared forfeited at any time, he believes.

Though the federal authorities first learned that Johnson was missing from press correspondents, it was learned today that Johnson's sudden maneuver was no surprise to his cronies. The big black had boasted for several days that he was about "to slip one over on the government."

Cronies Celebrate Escape

In a saloon near the negro's home where his friends congregated, there was room after round of drinks today in celebration of the big fighter's successful flight. Tom Clark, the saloon proprietor, said that both Johnson and Joe Levy, his "white valet," had discussed their plans with a crowd of negroes for more than an hour before the departure.

Johnson first went to a fishing resort in Wisconsin, according to his cronies and there donned some old clothes. He boarded a train on which were members of the American Giants, a colored ball team going to Detroit and escaped notice in the crowd of bulky negroes.

From Detroit Johnson fled to Toronto and then to Montreal. Once safe in Montreal Johnson telegraphed to his wife.

Washington Joins Effort

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Every effort will be made by the department of justice to bring Jack Johnson back to the United States for punishment under the white slave law. Officials admitted today that while it was the general opinion of lawyers that the offense for which the negro pugilist was convicted was not an extraditable one, it was hoped that some informal agreement might be reached with the Canadian government by which the prize fighter could be held and possibly returned to Chicago.

The department was advised from Chicago that Johnson had left the United States and intended to sail Tuesday from Montreal for St. Petersburg, where, it was reported, he has fight engagements with Sam Langford and Gunboat Smith.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE SHAUGHNESSEY METHOD

By CHESTER FARRINGTON

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

"Billy! Oh, Billy!"
Billy Vail, who was driving the car at the moment, brought it up sharply.

Vail leaped out of the car, and, hat in hand, approached the girl who stood on the curb.

"For goodness sake, Marion," he said severely, "what are you doing in this part of the city? Social service doesn't bring you this far, does it?"

She nodded vigorously. "Oh, I'm so glad you came along," said she. "I've looked and looked for a policeman, but not a one in sight, and there isn't a moment to lose. Get Mr. Shaughnessey for me, won't you, Billy? Get him before he spends all the rent money!"

Billy Vail raised his brows.

"Mr. Shaughnessey?" he inquired.

"Where is he?"

"In there," said Marion Trent, indicating a very seedy cafe on the corner, from behind the swinging doors of which came the tinkle of glasses and the hum of noisy conversation.

Billy Vail shrugged his broad shoulders. He seemed about to re-monstrate when Marion clutched his arm.

"Mrs. Shaughnessey is ill or she'd have come herself," she explained.

"It's the money she's earned scrubbing. She had it saved up for the rent and he came back and took it. Hurry, before he spends it all."

Billy Vail grinned wearily. Then, urged yet further by the girl, he opened the swinging doors and entered. Forthwith there came a buzz to the voices within, the sound of a strife. Then the doors were kicked open and Billy Vail came out clutching a big man by the collar. He yanked the big man to the car.

"Get on the front seat with Fritz!" he said sharply to the girl, while he himself opened the door of the tonneau and proceeded to boost the loudly protesting Mr. Shaughnessey in.

"Go on, Fritz," he snapped, holding the struggling man beside him with one hand, while with the other he strove to get some of the dust off his hat and clothes. "Start on—anywhere!"

"Now, here's your Mr. Shaughnessey," he went on disgustedly to the girl as the car moved away from the curb. "Where do you want to take him?"

Marion gave the address to Fritz.

It proved to be a barracks-like tenement house in a dingy side street.

The car drew up before it and Marion got out.

"Billy, it's asking an awful lot of you, but will you bring him in—two flights up, they live," said she.

"Always pleased to oblige with these little trifles," said Billy.

Again Mr. Shaughnessey protested, but Billy steered him out of the car, boosted him up the two flights of stairs and through a door which Marion held open.

"The saints be praised!" said a quavering voice from the bed. "Has he got any of it left?"

"Please go through his pockets, Billy," Marion instructed.

So Billy went through the Shaughnessey pockets and brought to light a few bills of small denomination and a handful of change.

On the bed Mrs. Shaughnessey counted it.

"He ain't spent but thirty-five cents," she declared delightedly. "My, ain't your young man strong and handsome!"

Billy grinned and Marion flushed. "Now, won't you take this thirty-five cents out my pocket-book and run down to Levy's and pay the rent for me, dearie?" asked Mrs. Shaughnessey. "I hate to ask you after all you've done, but I'm going to be laid up for a week or so and I want that rent paid before he gets it again."

"We'll stop there on the way home," said Marion, taking the money. "Come, Billy!"

Outside in the car Billy climbed into the tonneau with the girl, leaving the wheel to Fritz.

"It's about time you stopped this sort of thing," said he severely. "It is no work for you to be doing!"

Marion bridled.

"See the good we did Mrs. Shaughnessey just now," said she.

"Good!" scoffed he. "Yes, a whole lot of it. We saved her rent and got her in for a good pounding."

"Well, women don't mind that if they care enough about the man," said she. "Mrs. Shaughnessey is very fond of him."

"Huh!" he commented enlighteningly.

"Women, anyway, like the man to be the master," said she.

Her tone made him look sharply at her. He saw how tired she looked.

"Things have gone wrong all day," she said, catching his glance.

He sat silent for a moment. Then he leaned over and whispered to Fritz.

The car rounded the next corner and headed back downtown.

"Aren't we going straight home?" she asked.

"Not yet," said he curtly.

The car stopped in front of one of the city buildings. Billy with no apology, no explanation, got out and went inside. When he came out he whispered again to Fritz.

Uptown went the car and stopped this time in front of the rectory of the Church of the Saints.

Billy stepped from the car and held open the door. "Get out!" he commanded curtly.

Marion looked questionably at him. "What for?" she inquired.

"To be married to me," said Billy coolly. "The rectory is a good friend of mine, and I have just got the license. That's why we went back downtown."

Marion gasped and shrank into a far corner of the cushions. Billy smiled.

"Get out," he repeated. "Women like men to be the master. I'm taking a few lessons from Mr. Shaughnessey. I'm the master here. This

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by O. T. Erhart under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

thing has gone quite far enough. have waited and waited, and dawdled along, and let you play the game your way. Now we'll play it mine, thanks to Mr. Shaughnessey and what I've learned this afternoon—that women like men to be the masters. I said, get out!"

Slowly, flushing beautifully she stepped from the car. With Billy's hands beneath her arm she went up to the walk to the rectory. Billy rang the bell and a maid let them into a reception room.

Once the maid was gone, Marion stepped to Billy's side and put her hands on his shoulders.

"Oh, Billy," said she, "I was so tired of it all today. Nothing seemed right nor worth while. I—I wanted you and a home. I wanted to be told what to do. And—and I think I ought to be beaten just as Shaughnessey is no doubt beating his wife now. I'm—I'm glad you took the reins and made me do this. Only, Billy, afterwards you won't always—"

Billy caught her in his arms and by way of answering her he covered her face with kisses.

ADVISE FLY SWATTERS

MADISON, Wis., June 27. — The "swat the fly" and "rob the undertaker" movements are having new stimulus from the state board of health, which has issued advice to all health officers in the state. They are advised to issue rules and regulations governing sanitary conditions, to have published in the papers and posted in many conspicuous places.

"It is easily within the power of the local health officers of the state," says the board in its letter to health officers, "to prevent three-fourths of the deaths from contagious diseases which have heretofore occurred by good, reasonable, wide-awake, efficient activity in your department."

It isn't particularly difficult to make good coffee. But an awful lot of the other kind gets aboard the breakfast tables of this land.

None of the names of the suits appear in the safety razor ads, as would seem perfectly proper.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Wise Dog Learned To Keep Quiet.

The Miser Came Out With a Gun.

OUTSIDE the window Sheppie was barking loudly. "Shall I tell him to keep quiet, daddy?" Jack asked.

"You might put your head out of the window and see what is the trouble," daddy suggested.

Jack did so. Then he drew in his head and said: "It was the Greens' cat on the fence. Sheppie always barks at strange cats."

"That is no more than can be expected," said daddy. "Our Tabby has always chased them away, and I suppose Sheppie thinks he is taking her part in doing the same."

"A well brought up dog doesn't bark unless he has some reason to do so. It's just as well to find out what that reason is before you tell him to keep quiet."

"Once on a time a cross, crabbed old miser bought himself a dog. He wanted it to watch his house so that no one could come about without his knowing it. He was afraid some one would steal his money."

"He brought the dog home and tied him up near the house. Then he went to bed. The dog began to bark, and the miser got up and took down his gun. Then he went out to find out what his dog was barking about."

"Though he searched all about, he couldn't find any one. Then he gave his dog a beating and went back to bed."

"The next night the dog began to bark again, and again the miser went down and looked around, but could see no one. Again he beat the dog and went to bed."

"The third night the poor dog was so discouraged that it kept quiet when a man in a black mask came creeping out of the clump of bushes. The man had hidden there for two nights waiting for a chance to get into the old miser's cellar, where his money was said to be hidden."

"I will only be beaten for my trouble," the dog said to himself, and so he did not bark this time."

"The robber opened the cellar window and crawled in. He didn't find any money in the cellar, for the miser didn't keep it there."

"When the miser got up he found that some one had been in the house and the dog had not barked. He was going to beat it again when a passing neighbor asked him what was the matter. The miser told him."

"You dunce," the neighbor said; "I've seen a stranger prowling over there in the shrubbery for the last couple of nights. The dog was barking at him. No doubt the man was hidden somewhere each time you came out. How can you punish the dog for keeping quiet last night when you punished the poor beast for his faithful watchfulness on two former nights? It is his stupid master who should be punished."

LA FOLLETTE AND THE TARIFF BILL

The attitude of the Milwaukee Journal, which is an independent progressive paper, is shown in a recent editorial that will be of general interest because it completely answers the assumption in which adverse critics have indulged, that the Journal's support of the Wilson administration is a "flop" to a new hand wagon. As a matter of fact, in supporting the Wilson program the Journal is cleaving to the broad principles which it has advocated and for which it has backed men regardless of party. If, in the tariff matter, it prefers the more sweeping position of the president to the La Follette idea, which while strongly progressive, is less radical than that of Mr. Wilson, it is our recollection that its choice is consistent with its past record, for it has seemed to us that at all times the Journal has gone farther than Senator La Follette in relation to reduction of the schedules.

The Journal has been flaying Lenroot and other progressive republicans for voting in the house against the Wilson bill. We should not have presumed, from the votes alone, that they indicated a preference for the Aldrich law; we would have preferred to believe that they voted purely as a party distinction and were awaiting the La Follette amendments to finally show their position. But the attempted defenses made in their own behalf by these congressmen seem to belie the friendly inference. These congressmen have voted, and they have talked. La Follette has done neither. Note the difference in the Journal's attitude. The Norfolk Virginian Pilot recently uttered this comment:

"Senator La Follette revolted against the republican party because it would not revise the tariff downward nor institute an income tax to equalize the burdens of taxation between the rich and poor. Now that the democrats have come into power and have set about doing both the things he formerly championed, the senator has faced about and will make common cause with the regular republicans in opposing both reforms. Which goes to show that the senator has hopes of being chosen as the Moses to lead the reunited republican party out of the wilderness. He had rather be wrong than surrender the slightest chance of becoming president. Issues with such men are not matters of conviction; only runs upon the ladder by which they hope to climb to the summit of their ambition."

The Journal quotes the above, and makes vigorous defense of Senator La Follette, part of which we quote:

"The time to praise or criticize the senator will be after he shall have cast his vote for or against the retention of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. If, after doing his utmost to change the pending tariff bill, which it is clearly his right to do, he shall finally vote for the measure, as the only way to relieve the people from the grievous burdens of the Payne-Aldrich law, then he will render to the country as great a service as it has been within the power of any public man to perform during this generation. If, on the other hand, he shall in the end vote in such a way as to help keep the Aldrich law in force for four years longer, he will have done a thing calling for popular condemnation and repudiation."

Nothing in Senator La Follette's past record justifies the assumption that he will vote on the side of the Aldrich law. His record so far has been one of loyal and courageous devotion to the interests of the people. While the Aldrich bill was pending four years ago, he, rising far above mere partisanship, spoke strongly against this republican measure and time and time again he voted with democrats against its robber features. He voted against Aldrich 106 times, while Senator Gore, democrat, who differed with Aldrich on roll call more than any other member of the United States senate, voted 'no' to Aldrich's 'yes' only 118 times—just twelve more negative votes than La Follette cast. Senator La Follette was one of the twenty-four senators who voted for free iron ore, and with him were more republicans than there were democrats. Senator La Follette, in the interest of the poor, spoke strongly against the Aldrich woolen schedule. He condemned many other features of the Aldrich bill. He did more than talk. Bear in mind that he voted against Aldrich 106 times.

"In view of his strong and high minded opposition to the Aldrich bill four years ago, what justification is there for assuming that now Senator La Follette will vote to keep in operation this immortal, extortionate tariff measure?"

With The Journal, we are convinced that Senator La Follette will never vote for the retention of the Aldrich law. That he will attempt to secure its amendment to meet his own ideas of a just tariff, is certain. That he will vote for the Wilson bill, either as amended by his own efforts or in its present condition, in preference to voting for its defeat, which means the retention of the Aldrich law, we are as certain as we are of the rising of the sun. We have found no inconsistent place in La Follette's past record, no shifting, no back sliding. Why expect it now? Least of all, why do him the injustice to assume an unholy reversal of his splendid record without an act of his, or a fact, upon which to base it?

FLAWS IN THE CIVIL SERVICE

President Wilson has pointed out to the senate a number of flaws in the civil service laws, some of which he roundly condemns, and with just cause. He declares that the effort to distribute the appointments proportionately among the different states has greatly reduced the efficiency of federal employees and cost the government a great amount in the quality of its professional labor.

There is no good reason why an applicant for a position who meets the requirements sufficiently to secure a rating of 85 to 90 per cent should be left out of the consideration to permit the appointment of an applicant from another state with a much lower rating. This is what the president claims is happening and he bases his conclusions on an exhaustive report of an inquiry into the ratings of employees in all departments of the government. This report shows that applicants who obtained marks but little over 70 in their examinations have been appointed to the federal services when eligible persons were on the rolls of other states with marks over 90.

This is an age of efficiency and the movement in this direction has reached the point where it is essential to the success of all private businesses. Why should it not apply to the government? Why should the efficiency of the national departments be sacrificed in order that "pap" may be distributed proportionately among the states? If there is any institutional reason for having the states and territories proportionately represented in the service it would be interesting to learn just what the reason is.

The commission making the inquiry has recommended that the attempt of the law to give each state its share of federal patronage be greatly modified, that a mark of 85 be set as the standard by which the first choice of applicants shall be made, and that all of the eligible persons standing over 85 be first selected, notwithstanding the fact that certain states may still lack their share of federal employees. The president approves this recommendation. Congressional representatives should do likewise.

And father writes a check.

A Tenant Feels Relieved
An old colored woman came into a Washington real estate office the other day and was recognized as a tenant of a small house that had become much enhanced in value by reason of the building of a new union station in that neighborhood.
"Look here, auntie, we are going to raise your rent this month," the agent remarked briskly.
"Deed, an' Ah's glad to hear dat, sah," the old woman replied, ducking her head politely. "Mighty glad, fo' sho', 'case Ah des come in hyah terday ter tell y' all dat Ah couldn't raise hit dis month!"—Harper's Magazine.

Beef Roll

A New Way of Using Left Overs
By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Every housewife finds the disposition of left overs a most perplexing problem. K C Beef Roll will go a long way toward helping you out when the family get tired of hash and stews. You really ought to try it for supper tonight or tomorrow night at the latest.

Beef Roll, K C Style
Three cups flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 3 level teaspoons K C Baking Powder; 1/2 cup shortening; 1/2 cup milk; 1 cup each, chopped cooked beef and ham; 1 teaspoonful mixed mustard; 2 beaten eggs; grating of onion; 1/4 teaspoonful each, salt and pepper; broth or water.
Make a biscuit dough of the flour, salt, K C baking powder, shortening and milk, and roll into a sheet half an inch thick, having the ends even. Mix the other ingredients by themselves, using liquid as needed to make a paste. Spread the paste over the dough and roll like a jelly roll. Bake in a buttered pan about forty minutes. Brush over the outside with a little beaten egg left for the purpose and return to the oven to brown. Serve hot with a rich brown sauce. Other meats, such as chicken or veal, alone, or in combination, may be used. The onion and mustard may be omitted.
Ninety recipes—just think of it—by the famous cooking authority, Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, sent free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder. Send for the handsome Cook's Book today to the JAGUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

MYSTERY OF CHILD'S DEATH IS UNSOLVED

Mary Phagan and Leo Frank.

The mystery surrounding the murder of Mary Phagan, fourteen-year-old girl who was brutally murdered in an Atlanta (Ga.) pencil factory last April, is no nearer solution now than it was a week after the tragedy occurred. All the efforts of the authorities have failed to produce any new evidence.

Leo Frank, superintendent of the factory, is under arrest, charged with the crime, and public feeling in Atlanta is high against him.

"I should worry," said Smith. Mrs. Smith was repeatedly reminding her husband that she owned the silver, that she owned the furniture, that the piano was her own private property, and so on until poor Smith began to wonder what she'd claim next.

The other night Mrs. Smith woke in alarm. Strange sounds were heard in the lower parts of the house, and quickly rousing her husband, she cried:

"John! John! Get up! There are burglars in the house!"

"Eh?" inquired Mr. Smith, rubbing his eyes.

"Burglars down stairs," repeated Mrs. Smith.

"Burglars?" said Smith, as he turned over. "Well, I should worry. I don't own anything."

What's in a Name?
General Horace Porter once told the following: "In the mountains of New Hampshire I met one of the colored troops driving a stage on a country route, and asked him his name."

"George Washington, sah," was the answer.

"I said: 'That is a name that is well known to everybody in this country.'"

"I reckon, sah, it ought to be. I've been drivin' heah evah since de wah."

THE RED BUTTON

Copyright, The Doile-Merrill Company.

Presently the little knot in the street and the parlors was augmented by a woman, fully and rather over-luxuriously dressed, as though for the theater—a big picture hat and a black satin, fur-edged evening coat over a light gown which showed here and there the glitter of sequins. She was a large but shapely woman of uncertain age; yet so pleasing withal that the gathering loafers, even in the excitement of a murder, spared a few admiring glances at her face. Her expression changed momentarily with each sound from above; and with these changes the ghost of a line of dimples played about her generous mobile mouth. The mouth, the dimples, the peaked chin, the rather small straight nose, all appeared in strange contrast to her large light eyes, which arrested attention at once through a curious appearance of looking far away.

The printer and the milkman hastened to tell her their news. Some row was on up there; they'd overheard something about a murder. At that word, the strange woman with quick efficient gestures, drew off her long evening gloves, straightened out the fingers, rolled them into a neat ball, and put them away in her muff.

"I'm goin' up," she confided to her fellows. "I belong there—they need a sensible woman, from the way they're screechin'. You better not follow—you'll do no good an' it might get you involved." With surprising lightness, considering her bulk, she mounted the stairs.

The noise guided her to the focus of interest; she pushed her way into the room of the late Captain Hanks, and stood looking about with a pair of large serious eyes which took in every detail. She bent her gaze on the dead man, stooped, made quick examination, first of the wound and then of his face. Both Mrs. Moore and Miss Harding were about to ask this stranger to account for herself, when the doctor, half-dressed but carrying his bag, edged past the door. All turned to him. He looked but an instant on the face.

"He's dead," he said calmly and briefly.

At this confirmation of what every one already knew, Mrs. Moore fainted again—tumbled into the arms of Miss Harding. Miss Jones, with a feeling that she must do the right thing now that the doctor was looking, rushed over and opened both windows. If Mrs. Moore expected attention from the doctor, she was balked. He was making a more careful examination and that lady gradually revived of her own notion.

"He has been dead for some time—not long enough for rigor mortis to set in, but he's cold and the blood has begun to congeal," he said at length. "Has any one notified the police? Has any one called up a coroner?"

"I'll attend to that," volunteered the strange woman, with an air of perfect competence and command; "where's the phone—ground floor and top floor hall? All right; I'll use the top floor; that's nearer. Any particular coroner, Doctor? Lipschut? All right."

The doctor gave a look of inquiry at her raiment, so grotesquely mismatched with such a scene. Tommy North, already perceiving what might happen to a young man caught all blood-smearing in proximity to a murder, threw a quick appealing glance of his own. The woman seemed to catch the inquiry and the appeal.

"Don't you worry, young man. I've got no connection with the police, an' if you didn't do this thing you'd all right," and then to the doctor: "My name is Madame Le Grange. I own the house at 442—across the street. Never mind my dear," this to Miss Harding, who showed signs of coming out of her stupor and following. With a business-like air, she bustled up-stairs, called police headquarters, informed them there had been a murder at 445 and the doctor wanted Coroner Lipschut—also, they had better send some policemen. This done, she spent a moment in thought before she descended.

In the hall, she met the regular patrolman, who had received the news at last. The limb of the law had forbidden the augmented crowd at the door to follow him; he was ascending alone. The sight of this woman in her fashionable clothes—or was it her compelling look of command—stopped him.

"Listen," she said, "there's only a second. Never mind who I am. Look at this." She produced the old and worn piece of paper which she had drawn from her bag a minute before.

"To the police," it read. "Any matter that concerns the bearer, Mrs. Rosalie Le Grange, is to be referred to me. I request you to give her the greatest discretion."

"Inspector Martin McGee," "Not a word," pursued Rosalie Le Grange. "Now mind I didn't see this thing, an' I don't know as much about it as you. But it's your job to tip me off to the reserves as soon as they come—make them understand that they ain't to stop me whatever I do. And remember"—now the woman smiled in a meaningful way—"you got here just as quick as you could—not a second later—I'll stick to that. Now get inside." She waited a moment, before she followed him.

Tommy North, fairly green now, was sitting on a couch in his ghastly raiment. At that moment,

It is one thing to make soda crackers that are occasionally good.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are always better than all other soda crackers, always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda"—stamped on every biscuit—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Senor Estrilla came down the stairs from his sister's room. He had opened his raincoat, but it was still wet. He had turned up his hat brim, but an occasional drop fell.

"My seester is better," he said. "Oh, can I assist?" And while he helped the men to cover the body, he listened to scattered explanations from the women.

Now the reserves had come; and after them, the coroner and the detectives. They cleared out the house, holding only those who seemed to them pertinent witnesses. At a signal from Rosalie Le Grange they detained her for a time, on the ground that she had arrived suspiciously early. The first unorganized search for the criminal simmered down to Tommy North, although even Mrs. Moore admitted that he had entered only a minute before the body was discovered. In the midst of the investigation a new quandary presented itself. The house was to be sealed while the police investigated. The innocent would have to find some other dwelling-place. That suited her, Miss Harding remarked; she would not sleep there again; whereupon Mrs. Moore, declaring she was ruined, fell again to weeping. And suddenly she who called herself Madame Le Grange stepped forward into the huddled distressed group.

NORMAL SCHOOL OPINION

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—In an opinion rendered to Secretary William Kittle of the board of normal schools, it is held that a normal school certificate issues to persons completing the country teachers' course is evidence of qualification to teach only in the county in which the school issuing the certificate is located; except that, where the certificate is held by a high school graduate who has taught seven months and where it is countersigned by the county superintendent, such certificate legally qualifies the holder to teach for a period of five years in any state graded school, the principalship of a state graded school of the first class excepted.

NAMES ACCOUNTANTS

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—As members of the Wisconsin board of accounting, created by the present legislature to examine and license public accountants, Governor McGovern has appointed Stephen W. Gilman, Madison, for the term ending June 25, 1916; Henry Schneider, Milwaukee, for the term ending June 25, 1915, and John B. Tanner, Madison, for the term ending June 25, 1914. All are well known expert accountants.

Gave His All

It was at a fashionable wedding in Savannah. The bridegroom had no visible means of support save his father, who was rich; but when he repeated that portion of the service he said, boldly:

"With all my worldly goods I thee endow!"

Whereupon the father said in a stage whisper that could be heard all over the church: "Heavens! There goes his bicycle!"

Heat Very Trying To Women's Nerve

They Neglect Their Bowels and the Poisons Vitiates the Blood

Hot weather has a very weakening effect on women. They are too languid to exercise, and as a result have appetite only for foods that seem light and tasty, such as salads and other cold concoctions. But these frequently produce indigestion, and with it comes constipation.

It is especially in hot weather that women should keep up the highest standard of health, for it is necessary to have strength to resist the heat. The first essentials are good digestion and regular bowel movement, and then good red blood and steady nerves will follow. The best way to obtain these is not by an over-indulgence in fruits, which often are not ripe, or over-ripe, and hence are dangerous, but in the use of a gentle and pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Use it an ideal laxative for women and children. You will never again use strong cathartics, purgatives and salts after trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin.

Mrs. Henry Moeller, 2958 Lee Ave., Chicago, uses it herself and gives it to her children, and Mrs. A. Caldwell, Denver, Col., was once pale and sallow-looking, but now has a pretty complexion, and naturally they are great believers in the value of Syrup Pepsin as a reasonable laxative tonic. It can be obtained of druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size for family use. Its tonic properties make it an ideal laxative for women and children. You will never again use strong cathartics, purgatives and salts after trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 418 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ROOT RIVER RISE TO HASTEN WORK

Thirty oak piles that have delayed the finishing of the repairing of the protection pier of the Mississippi wagon bridge will probably arrive here within the next few days. They were cut some months ago by Contractor Norcross of French Island in the Root river bottoms. It was thought that they could be floated, but later it was discovered that they were too green, and would have to be loaded on a barge, and the barge floated. To do this the water would have to be very high in the small river, and it was feared until the recent rise of Root river that they would not be able to be used this year.

The river has risen two feet within the past forty-eight hours and is expected to still rise a few inches.

If the piles from Root river cannot be brought here, others will be procured, so the work can progress. The oak timber in the Root river bottoms is the best that can be obtained for piles in this part of the country, and it was thought by the contractor that it would be cheaper to cut and float logs from nearby than to buy them from the west.

ALDERMAN DOWNS SLIGHTLY BETTER

The condition of Alderman John F. Downs, 226 Mill street, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Wednesday afternoon in the tax commissioner's office at the city hall, is slightly improved today and it is hoped that his recovery will be rapid. Dr. E. E. Evans has been in close attendance at his bedside since he was taken ill.

Alderman Downs was overcome several days ago in the Milwaukee yards where he was working. He has been a switchman for several years.

He had been away from his home a few times since his first stroke, as he did not think it would return. His many friends in all parts of the city are anxious for his speedy recovery.

NORTH SIDE NEWS

FIREMAN TAKEN ILL ON ENGINE

Fred Heinsmith, of Dubuque, Overcome by Heat in the Cab; Will Recover

Fred Heinsmith, Dubuque, a fireman on the Dubuque division of the Milwaukee railroad was overcome with heat yesterday morning in the cab of the engine which he was firing.

Heinsmith left the north side yards firing Dubuque freight train No. 64, at 8:30 yesterday morning. The train was run to La Crescent, where it switched until 10:30. Shortly after leaving La Crescent Heinsmith's engineer saw him reel and fall to the floor of the cab. The crew of the train worked over him for half an hour before he regained consciousness.

Another fireman was substituted and the train was sent on its run. Heinsmith was brought back to the city, and later went to his home in Dubuque.

Charles J. Higgins, second trick operator at the north side Milwaukee depot is leaving for his home in Richmond, Wis., for a short vacation. C. Beaver will take his place until he returns.

MISS WILSON HAS CHARMING VOICE

Makes Favorable Impression at Madison Social Center Meeting

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—Miss Margaret Wilson, the daughter of the president, and her charming voice captured the interest of the large throng of Tenth warders who last night filled the auditorium of the Randall school at a social center meeting. Miss Wilson appeared in three song numbers. Those of musical discernment who disassociated her singing from their understanding of her high social position testified that she possesses an unusually sweet voice of careful cultivation. She was encored with each appearance.

Her principal numbers were "O My Laddie" by Thayer, "The Swan" by Greig, and "My Lovely Celia" Old English. Prof. Arnold Bresden was her accompanist.

Miss Lona Gale gave a reading, and E. N. Warner talked on a schoolhouse social center in his community near Madison. Other musical numbers were contributed by university folk.

Miss Wilson was a center of interest to all who came. An informal reception in her honor followed the program, and dancing continued for an hour. Miss Wilson joining in the festivities with girlish abandon.

Miss Wilson did not hesitate to express her appreciation of the value of social centers to the life of the community.

"My interest in this movement has grown very greatly," she said. "It is one of wonderful potentialities and I look to see it spread rapidly over the nation. The spirit of such meetings as this is delightful."

Miss Wilson will return east next Monday.

GIANT MULE IS BOUGHT FOR $2

Montana Animal Nine Feet Tall; North Sider Buys Him from Carload

The largest purchase of mule flesh on record was made yesterday when C. Swartz, 616 St. Cloud street, paid $2 for nine feet of the Montana variety, mostly skin and bones. A car load of horses, mules and cattle rolled into the north side yards of the Milwaukee railroad yesterday morning under the burning sun. It was run in on a side track, so that the horses and cattle could be watered. The cattle inspector noticed a queer looking animal among a car of mules, and upon investigation discovered that a mule fully nine feet in height, with his legs bent in "V" shapes was striving for an existence which looked about to be snuffed out. His back was scraping against the top of the car which was eight feet high.

Swartz, looking for bargains, happened along, and gave the owner $2 for him. He says he intends to put him on one side of a hay stack and let him eat his way through. The mule is but three years of age, and according to Swartz, "Just grew up into size, not allowing for flesh."

Always There.

PRINCESS PAT WRITES A BOOK; QUEEN MARY THROWS IT IN THE WASTE BASKET

Princess Patricia.

Princess Patricia of Connaught, daughter of the governor-general of Canada, has just met with a distressing experience. After writing a book about her experiences in Canada and her impressions of the United States, her aunt, Queen Mary of England, ordered the manuscript destroyed. This was done, to the evident grief of Princess "Pat," who is nursing literary ambitions.

Queen Mary neglected to say just why she put a crimp in her niece's first literary venture. It is possible that the book contained uncomplimentary statements about the United States.

RESCUER NEAR DEATH

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 27.—Saved from drowning by the narrowness of margins, Donald Murphy was none the worse today for the ducking he received when, with Jerome Martin, he went to the assistance of Leland Knowlan, local aviator, whose machine collapsed in mid-air and fell into Green Bay late Thursday afternoon. Martin and Murphy went to Knowlan's assistance and Murphy, in order to lighten the boat leaped into the bay, intending to swim ashore. When he had covered half the distance he became exhausted and was rescued with difficulty.

"It is so sudden!" exclaimed the fair haired girl, who had just received a proposal to merge her identity in that of a would be protector. "You must give me time to reflect."

"No, no!" retorted the diplomatic young man. "One whose dazzling beauty makes a mirror ashamed of itself should never go into the reflecting business. Let this solitary diamond do the reflecting."

And the records of the license clerk show that it was even so.

Snakes and Their Food.

No serpents are vegetarian. The majority hunt birds and mammals; a few of the smaller kinds are insectivorous, certain little tropical burrowers spending their lives as ogres in ant hills, feeding upon the larvae; some eat frogs, lizards, and other snakes. The tropical marine serpents catch fish exclusively and rarely come upon land except to leave their eggs. Scarcely one will devour dead food in nature, yet may be taught to take it in captivity.

A Debt of Honor.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan, the famous dramatist and orator, was always in pecuniary straits and constantly besieged by his creditors. A creditor came into Sheridan's room one day and found him seated before a table strewn with gold and notes.

"There is no use in looking at that, my good fellow," said he to the visitor. "That is all bespoken for debts of honor."

"Very well," replied the tradesman, tearing up his security and throwing it into the fire: "now mine is a debt of honor too."

"So it is and must be paid at once," said Sheridan, and he handed him the money.

Mabel had gone to the art exhibit—not that she cared for pictures, but every one went.

A friend saw her and told another friend. Friend No. 2 met her a few days later.

"Why, hello, Mabel! I'm awfully glad to see you! I hear you are interested in art."

"Me? Art who?"—Everybody's.

THINGS ARE COMING LOYD-GEORGE'S WAY

Chancellor Lloyd-George.

The Marconi scandal in England, which for a time threatened the political life of Chancellor Lloyd-George, has finally blown over. Lloyd-George admitted that he had made a mistake in speculating in the Marconi company's stocks, and this admission resulted in his return to popular favor.

Lloyd-George's insurance act is now being tried out in Great Britain and gives every promise of adding to his popularity among the masses.

Watching The Scoreboard

The Phillies' artillery evidently ran out of ammunition. It was not on the job against the Dodgers. Cravath didn't get a hit in either game. Luderer got but one in the first game, but connected for a double and single in the second. At that the attack was not to be sneezed at and was kept up for fourteen innings in the first game.

It was a great day for the Giants and they are now but two and a half games behind the Phillies, who stumbled over the Dodgers. The Braves out-hit McGraw's men eleven hits to four in the first game but four singles in a row and two wild pitches by Tyler in the seventh netted four runs. The second game was easy.

Shortly after the adoption of bituminous coal as a fuel in England a royal proclamation was used forbidding its use and authorizing the destruction of the furnaces of the users, who were characterized as evil doers. Scarcity of fuel, it seems, shortly compelled the resumption of its use. In the reign of Elizabeth bituminous coal was again prohibited during sessions of parliament lest the health of the members suffer thereby.—London Telegram.

MARSH-RIEGGER WEDDING

Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock occurred the marriage of Edith Lydia, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Marsh, 423 South Sixth street, and Mr. Frederick William Riegger, formerly of La Crosse.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Cullen at the parsonage of the Church of Immaculate Conception. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. George Riegger, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom. The bride wore a gown of white voile trimmed with shadow lace and carried lilies of the valley and pink sweet peas. Mrs. Riegger wore embroidered voile and carried marguerites.

Immediately after the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Riegger.

Mr. and Mrs. Riegger are at home to their friends at 2547 Lyndale avenue south, Minneapolis, Minn.

RECEPTION AT COUNTRY CLUB

The afternoon reception yesterday given by Mrs. Van Steenwyk, Mrs. W. R. Sill and Miss Sill at the Country club was a delightful and pleasant affair. Mrs. Frances Wickware nee Miss Margery Sill, was the guest of honor. About ninety guests were present. Although the weather was hot and uncomfortable in town it was delightfully cool on the broad screened verandas, and one forgot the discomforts of the heat and mosquitoes while sitting facing the grand old bluffs and inhaling the life giving ozone. The decorations were elaborate and ornate. In the center of the table was a silver and glass epergne filled with the Dorothy Perkin rose; on the mantle were glass bowls filled with pale pink ten week stock and maiden hair ferns. The screened porch was decorated in yellow, galadimms and corseopsis and ferns being used. Baskets of roses, pink spirea and trailing vines were placed upon the tables and stands. Many of the guests remained after the receiving hour to sit and enjoy the lovely view and cooling breezes.

MISS MILLER ENTERTAINS

Miss Matilda Miller entertained at dinner on Monday evening at her home on upper Caledonia street. Covers were laid for ten. Among the guests present were Lieut. and Mrs. Charles J. Miller of Mare Island, Cal.; Miss Eleanor Negele of Dayton, Ohio; Miss Rita Ferguson of Buffalo, N. Y.; Miss Dolly Miller and the Misses Susan and Edith Swarthout.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Elizabeth Bussell, who has been in the east with friends for the past two years, has returned home.

Messrs. Harold Bryant and Frank Funke have returned from Dubuque, where they attended the Alpha Omega convention.

William Crosby has returned home from Williams college.

Miss Harriet Ray returned this morning from Wellesley college.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Allen have returned from a two weeks' trip in Minnesota. They were guests of Mrs. S. D. Carrell in Minneapolis for several days and also in Rochester, Minn., with friends.

Mrs. Seville and daughter, Miss Ruth Seville, of Oklahoma City, have been guests of Mrs. Seville's sister, Mrs. H. L. Colman. Miss Seville will sail July 17 for Europe, where she will study music in Berlin.

Mrs. L. C. Colman took a party consisting of Mrs. Porter of China, Miss Phoebe Dudley of West Salem, and Miss Heidemann up to Riverside, the Spence cottage, at Eagle Bluff, where they spent the day.

The Misses Charlotte Colman, Edna Shirley, Georgiana Berg and Helen Burke are spending a week at the Y. W. C. A. camp.

Miss Janet Anderson has gone to St. Paul to visit her aunt, Mrs. Bunn.

Miss Mary Crosby returned from a trip up north where she spent several weeks.

Mrs. C. L. Colman is enjoying the brazees at Meadowbrook, her country home.

Mrs. L. Montague of Aberdeen, S. D., is visiting her uncle, Mr. M. Slevart, of 822 South Fourth street.

YESTERDAY'S WORK IN THE LEGISLATURE

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—(Special.)—Senator Linley introduced a resolution in the senate last night asking for an investigation by a legislative committee of the subject of state school funds and their effect on the educational system. His resolution points out that during the year 1910-11 the state school tax amounted to $1,964,143.06, of which only $107,550 went to rural schools. He believes that the school laws should be correlated and that a comprehensive plan of working out a system of state aid should be adopted. The resolution calls for a committee, three from the assembly and two from the senate.

The senate sent to engrossment the Scott bill providing for merging the state fire marshal's office and the department of inspector of illuminating oils with the industrial commission. Senator Hoyt's bill for the treatment of insane, epileptics and feeble minded was advanced. The senate also engrossed the Burke bill for the publication of all of the messages of the governors since the beginning of the state. Senator Teasdale's bill to tax the incomes of single men, who are earning more than $100 a year, was advanced. The senate also engrossed the Burke bill for the publication of the legislative bulletin and the measure asking the state printing board to make an investigation of the service furnished by the state printer. The K. A. Johnson bill appropriating $2,500 for the purchase of launches to be used by the fish and game department was advanced. Senator White attempted to cut the appropriation down, but his amendment was defeated, when Senator Scott explained that the launches were to be used to enforce the law. Governor McGovern has vetoed the Bove bill providing for a state board of university visitors.

Upon motion of Senator A. E. Martin the Walsh bill on retail license which is desired returned to the assembly to amend it so as to legalize invalid alcohol licenses, was laid over until July 9.

The Nye bill providing that state institutions may have their printing done locally was ordered to third reading. Two bills by the assembly committee on judiciary providing that judges in the municipal courts of Racine and Kenosha counties may exchange with the county judges were advanced. Senator Zophy made a fight to save the Zinn bill providing that all names on the poll list shall be placed in the jury box in the selection of juries. Kileen scored the plan as a cumbersome process, saying that 90,000 names in a jury box would be an anomaly. Zophy said all juries in Milwaukee seemed to be selected from the business classes, and he could not remember when a workman had been called to sit on a jury. The bill was killed by a vote of 13 to 9.

The senate concurred in the O'Connor bill re-writing the drainage laws of the state, and the Everett bill providing legal machinery for the election of United States by direct vote of the people. Assemblyman Anderson's joint resolution directing the geological survey to survey the lands in the forest reserve within the next two years was concurred in. Upon motion of Senator Cunningham his bill appropriating $200,000 for the establishment of a home for crippled and deformed children was laid over until July 9.

In spite of Senator A. E. Martin's opposition, the Manning home rule bill, applying to Milwaukee, was sent to third reading by a vote of 13 to 12. It was supported on the floor by Skogmo and Boshard. Boshard claimed that all the jokers had now been eliminated from the bill. Senator Martin said the bill pleased no one but its authors.

By a vote of 16 to 6, the senate passed the bill directing the industrial commission to examine all moving picture films to be shown in the state. On motion of Kileen it laid over until July 9 the Wolf River reservoir bill and the Stevens forestry measure.

The last chance to enact legislation divorcing saloons from brewery control faded with the senate's action yesterday afternoon in indefinitely postponing the Teasdale bill which provided that no individual, firm or corporation may hold an interest in more than one retail liquor license.

The senate engrossed the judiciary committee bill, said to have been prepared by Attorney General Owen, prohibiting trusts, monopolies and restraints of trade.

The senate killed the corporations committee bill providing that giving away of intoxicating liquor or any shift or device to evade any law of the state shall be deemed unlawful, punishable by fine or imprisonment. The A. E. Martin bill providing that the sale of groceries and meats shall not be deemed a work of charity or necessity was engrossed, the senate refusing by a vote of 14 to 12 to kill it. The bill aims to forbid such places of business to keep open Sundays.

The senate sent to engrossment the so-called Emery substitute to the Penning bill prohibiting the sale of "corn syrup" in Wisconsin except under label which discloses the ingredients. An amendment to allow the use of the words "glucose and syrup" was rejected.

Although all saloon licenses in the state expire on Monday night, the legislature has granted no relief to the nearly 1,000 saloons in the state which are being conducted contrary to the provisions of the Baker law as it has been interpreted by the supreme court.

The Walsh bill relating to the sale of household goods on the installment plan, was ordered to third reading in the senate.

Pulley Horsepower.

A rule for finding horsepower of a pulley is to multiply the circumference of the pulley in feet by the revolutions per minute and the product thus obtained by the width of the belt in inches and divide the result by 600. The quotient will be the horsepower which the pulley is capable of transmitting. This rule is founded on the fact that good, ordinary single leather belting, with a tension of fifty-five pounds per inch wide, will require fifty square feet of belt surface passing over the pulley per minute for one horsepower. Fifty square feet per minute are equal to a belt one inch wide running 600 feet per minute.

DOES McREYNOLDS DESERVE CRITICISM?

Immigration Commissioner Caminetti (top) and Attorney General McReynolds.

Some criticism has been heard against the course of Attorney General McReynolds, who at the request of Immigration Commissioner Caminetti allowed a postponement of the federal prosecution under the white slave act of Caminetti's son in California. A special agent of the department of justice in charge of the federal bureau of investigation at San Francisco has gone so far as to demand the resignation of both the attorney general and the immigration commissioner.

WHITE NO BETTER SPECIALIST HERE

Noted Chicago Surgeon Says Spinal Cord Was Stretched or Broken by Fall from Horse

C. F. White, well known La Crosse real estate dealer, who was brought home from his North Dakota ranch Wednesday, paralyzed from the neck down, was no better today, according to announcement at St. Francis hospital this afternoon.

Dr. Suppy, famous Chicago specialist, arrived in La Crosse this morning and made an examination. He declared that there was no dislocation of the neck, but that there was probably a hemorrhage of the spinal chord, which was either stretched or broken by Mr. White's fall from his horse.

Mr. White is in no pain, and is fully conscious, according to the attending physician.

TRIES BOMB TO REGAIN HIS WIFE

CHICAGO, June 27.—All other methods failing to bring his wife back home, Thomas McCarthy turned militant today, say the police. He placed a home made bomb under his mother-in-law's porch, lighted the fuse and stationed himself on the curb across the street to await results.

The bomb was no fake. It exploded and McCarthy's wife and was the fact that the accident occurred in their night clothes, while debris from the porch showered the neighborhood.

But Mrs. McCarthy did not run home. She ran to the nearest police station. Then the bomb maker turned sprinter and distanced a squad of policemen who tried to capture him. He is still at large, and his wife is still at his mother-in-law's.

ROAD CAN BORROW

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 27.—In an order issued here today Judge W. H. Sanborn in the United States circuit court, gave B. L. Winchell, receiver for the "Frisco road, authority to borrow not to exceed $850,000 to keep the road going during July, August and September while Judge Sanborn takes his vacation.

At the same time the judge authorized the expenditure for operating expenses and interest on mortgages of $2,500,000 during the same period.

The road is sure to earn money enough during the three months to enable it to spend that much money if it can borrow $850,000, Mr. Winchell said.

SCHULZ'S BODY FOUND IN RIVER

Rock Island Police Recover Body of Local Youth Who Fell Off Steamer

Word was received this noon by Undertaker William L. Tetley that the body of Arthur Schulz, 19, 1125 South Tenth street, had been found in the Mississippi at a point near Rock Island. Schulz was drowned last Sunday. He is said to have fallen off the deck of the steamer St. Paul at Rock Island.

Following a telegram received by the young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schulz, last Monday of his death, a friend of the family left for Rock Island to investigate a fear on the part of the parents of foul play. The young man had been employed as deck hand on the steamer since school was dismissed here.

A rumor which started in Rock Island was circulated in this city to the effect that Schulz was pushed off the deck of the boat by a fellow worker after he had been robbed. The local police investigated the rumor through the police at Rock Island, but found that it was not based on fact. What started the rumor was the fact that the accident occurred a short time after the men on the boat had been paid off.

The river in the vicinity has been dragged every day since the accident, but no trace of the body was found until this morning. The body will arrive in this city tomorrow morning, when the funeral services will be held.

AXE SLIPS AND MAN CUTS SELF

While cutting a board with an axe this morning at a boat house on Black river, John Bristow, 625 Caledonia street, severely injured his knee. The board was in a slanting position, and the axe slipped. Friends took him in a conveyance to the office of Dr. George W. Lueck, where it was discovered that the cut had penetrated the bone. Mr. Bristow was later taken to his home in a serious condition from loss of blood.

FIX UP SCHEDULE FOR PEA-CANNERS

The Industrial Commission Gives Relief to Industry in This State

Editor's Note.—The ruling spoken of in this article affects favorably the Onalaska and West Salem canneries. The principle here involved also affects the John Salzer Seed company of this city.

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—After two years of costly attempts to comply with the letter and spirit of the law limiting hours of labor of women to ten hours per day, the pea canning industry of Wisconsin has obtained relief. During the present season, which begins this week, the canners will work under a scientific time schedule approved by the state industrial commission. The schedule permits a longer work day when conditions beyond human control require extensions of the period of employment. Heretofore the law has not contained provisions which recognized so-called acts of God, sudden rain storms or other phenomena beyond human control.

The schedule is based on an exhaustive investigation carried on during the 1912 season. The results will appear in a bulletin of the United States government.

The special orders for the 1913 season just issued by the industrial commission are based upon last year's inquiry, the results of this inquiry having been laid before a special committee which was organized to recommend special orders for adoption by the commission. These special orders are permitted under a new law, passed by the present legislature. The membership of the committee represented the Wisconsin Pea Packers' association, the woman employees of canning factories, and the industrial commission. It was made clear during the hearings that the canning industry was seriously hampered by the restrictions of the ten hour law. The most serious results of the legal limitations occur when the peas ripen suddenly and are carried to the factories in tremendous quantities which require immediate packing. Delay in packing the peas causes deterioration of a product which is one of Wisconsin's real assets.

There is every indication that the industry will attain rapid growth within the next few years. For the present season it is reported that seven new factories have been added to the present equipment.

Arrangements have been made by the industrial commission to secure complete records of the business this season. These figures will be tabulated and further investigation will be made in order that the state government may be equipped to deal with the situation next year and in seasons following.

WOULD AVERT STRIKE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 27.—Negotiations between mine operators and leaders of the United Mine workers were continued today in an effort to avert the issuance of a strike call for July 1 in the New River field. Governor Hatfield took part in the conferences which were held in his office. The terms being considered will not be made public until it is definitely known whether a settlement can be reached.

STEEL BEAM FALLS SCORE NEAR DEATH

MILWAUKEE, June 27.—A score of workmen escaped death by inches today when a lifting crane on the thirteenth floor of the new First National bank building here broke, shortly before noon, and a two ton steel beam plunged two hundred feet downward into the Milwaukee river.

The beam struck at the eighth story and bounded sideways into the stream narrowly missing a derrick boat and steam shovel.

A score of masons on the eighth floor were hurled to the floor by the crash but sustained only minor injuries. The beam struck the water vertically and buried itself six feet in the river bed.

HUNT GOLD UNDER HOUSE

PUEBLO, Col., June 27.—Confident they will find a treasure worth $40,000, M. Hornberg is moving his residence from its foundation that he may search the basement. The prophecy of a spiritualist caused the investigation and facts developing have caused Hornberg to believe that hidden beneath his house is $40,000 worth of ore stolen by high graders at Cripple Creek twenty years ago. Mrs. Ida Hamill, who formerly lived in the house, declares that $50,000 worth of stolen ore was hidden there and only $10,000 worth of it was ever disposed of.

ELECTROCUTE THREE.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., June 27.—"General" May, notorious character throughout Kentucky, was electrocuted today at the state penitentiary for the murder of Sherman Meredith and his wife in Clay county. It was the third electrocution at the prison within a week, two prisoners having died in the chair last Friday.

Cries for Help When Trio Hurl Her Into Automobile Attract Police

CHICAGO, June 27.—Her face and arms scratched and her clothing torn, Angeline Dimaggio, a pretty 20 year old Italian girl, was rescued by the police today from a party of men who attempted to kidnap her in an automobile.

Her three captors are under arrest, charged with kidnapping. They gave their names as Phillip Dotorico, 28, a tailor, 1133 Milton avenue; Frank DeMarlah, 25, of 1111 Milton avenue, and Alamanto Rigio, 32, of 1024 Galloway avenue.

The girl left her home 723 Milton avenue today to go to work in a downtown department store. She had barely reached the sidewalk when three men seized her and threw her into a taxicab. The car speeded away with the girl screaming for help and struggling to escape.

Police Sergeant Frank Sharp heard the screams as the auto whizzed by him. He fired several shots and the chauffeur, taking fright, halted the taxi.

De Marlah and Dotorico fled down an alley but were captured by a squad of policemen who went in pursuit. Sergeant Sharp captured Biggio before he could jump from the car.

Dotorico told the police that the girl refused his offer of marriage last night and that he decided to kidnap her and force a wedding.

POCKETS IN SKIRTS

NEW YORK, June 27.—Pistol pockets for petite pursuers of fashion, which may be used for the purse or powder puff's place of hiding, is the latest decree of the National Tailors and Dressmakers, in convention here today. Chicago delegates introduced the new fashion to the other tailors and dressmakers and it was immediately approved.

The fall suit style, the skirt of which carries the pistol pocket which has been approved, approaches as near to the masculine attire as the creators believe they dare go at the present time. The skirt is narrow, probably about a yard around and has a cuff on the bottom much like those placed on men's trousers. Then there is the pocket or pockets—two detached ones—one on each hip.

SUFFRAGISTS TO STORM WASHINGTON ON JULY 30; MEN WILL HELP

THEY WILL MARCH INTO WASHINGTON DRESSED IN WHITE, EACH CARRYING A BOUQUET

SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES ARE GIRDING ON THEIR ARMOR AND PREPARING IN NUMEROUS WAYS FOR A GREAT BATTLE WHICH IS DUE IN WASHINGTON ON JULY 30. SUFFRAGISTS WILL MAKE UP THE ATTACKING FORCE.

It will be the most formidable attack ever made by the women on Washington.

Miss Alice Paul is in charge of the camp at Washington, and is planning the general assault. Women from all over the East will be in the invading army and will approach the capital on foot, a-horseback, by train, in automobiles and in numerous other ways.

The National Men's League of Northern New York, of which James Lees Laidlaw of New York city is president, will go to Washington at the same time, obtaining signers to the petition on the way.

SAYS ANCIENTS USED ANTI-FAT

Trial Develops that Helen of Troy and Cleopatra Fought Avoir-dupois

DENVER, Colo., June 26.—Not only did Cleopatra and Helen of Troy use flesh reducers in the good old days, but Empress Josephine and all the rest of Napoleon's crowd were there with the fat bouncing remedies.
The svelte figure for which Josephine was famous did not just "come natural" but was the result of a complete course of treatment.

This is one of the things stated in the letters alleged to have been written by Marjorie Hamilton Cunningham, to heavyweight women witnesses for the government in the trial of Mrs. Cunningham on charge of using the mails to defraud in selling an obesity cure. Federal Judge Lewis' ruling that the efficacy of the anti-fat treatment was not an issue in the case, nor was the fact that money was not returned when demanded, did not prevent the reading of more lively literature said to have emanated from the office of the defendants.

Here is what one letter said:
"I wish that I could bare my soul to you, that you could see in all its naked horror what I suffered from fat. Every woman desires to look her best in the eyes of some one in this world. The beauty of social leaders and of women of power in this world is the thing which gives them their immense right to rule.
You see in the papers every day of loving wives who have lost their husbands to some other woman because of the beauty of that woman and her form divine.

"Oh, if you could only know the joy I felt when I transformed my ugly self to one of graceful curves and beauty. I actually cried for joy when I learned that at last I had perfected a plan so simple and so harmless for the reduction of adipose tissue. It was the greatest day of my life when my fat began to vanish. I cried out many nights because of my ungainly figure, and fat, horrid lines and limbs."

Following which, in various bits of literature, Marjorie Hamilton announced these little axioms:

"Fat will out!"
"Upon the altar of woman's beauty man worships."

"I have conquered the fat world!"
"Let me glorify your life by banishing your fat and your double chin forever."

Teeth and Wisdom.
"I shall be dreadfully stupid now," said the wife, who had just returned from the dentist's.

"Why so, my dear?" asked her husband.

"I have had all my wisdom teeth pulled out," she replied.

"Of course, my love," said her husband, with the best intention in the world, "you know it is nothing but a superstitious idea that wisdom teeth have anything to do with wisdom. If you were to have every tooth in your head drawn it couldn't make you any more stupid, you know."

He succeeded after awhile in smoothing matters out, but it was a narrow escape.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Special Fruit.
A man riding a wheel along a country road in late October dismounted, climbed a fence and picked up an apple from the ground. He stood eating it when a farmer came along and said,
"Hay, what are you doing?"

The man apologized and said he had picked the apple up from the ground.

"Waal," half snorted the farmer,
"don't you go doin' anything like that ag'in. Und'stand?"

"All right, sir," said the man. "But I thought it would be all right because I found the apple on the ground."

"Waal, that's just it!" cried the farmer. "Them apples on the ground is for my dogs. If you want one you pick it off the tree."—Everybody's.

Some fellows can't make love successfully because they have never developed the gentle art of lying.

HEALTH THE BALANCE OF TOXINES

Doctors and Health Officers Make Parts of World Safer Places to Live

(By MONCENA DUNN.)

As the daylight of the year exactly equals the darkness when measured by human measurements, so does death equal birth when the final average of the world is taken. Health is not as many suppose, the freedom from toxic (poisonous) influences, but the balance of them.

Up the back alley of doubtful experiment the medicine men of the ages have come to know this. When illness came from too much acidity, its opposite, saline matter was found to neutralize the excess and bring back the balance. When the human body is under an overload of the toxic influence of alcohol, just the right amount of its opposite injected into the blood will bring about the balance in about seven minutes.
The one neutralizes the other.

How Drunkards Develop
If no balancing ingredient is at hand in the system or artificially administered, nature proceeds to produce the necessary anti-toxine which the special over load requires. At first this is done slowly and the consequent sickness is somewhat prolonged. But as unhealthy conditions are persisted in, nature becomes more and more prepared to furnish the proper ingredients to bring about and maintain a balance—health. Consequently the tobacco user and the alcoholic tippler is able to use more and more of the poison until finally the excess of the bodily possibilities is reached or a chronic condition ensues where in these drugs must be used to maintain a semblance of the balance because the system has formed the habit of producing the counteracting ingredients and that in itself will bring about an abnormal condition should the drug be suddenly stopped.

Knowledge vs. Ignorance
According to this natural law of compensation, knowledge is also balanced and continually contended against by ignorance. Knowledge and ignorance are only comparative terms. The highest plain of mental development which we may set today and call it knowledge may become the proper standard of the ignorance of some future age.

Doctor Dies For Idea
As humanity gradually lifts itself from the burdens and ravages of disease by the acquirement of knowledge it is interesting to note the assaults of ignorance. When an American physician discovered that the yellow fever germ was transmitted from one to another by the mosquito, and gave his own life to prove it, he made the building of the Panama canal a possibility. Otherwise

North Carolina Lady, As Told
In Following Advice.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen L. Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for a while, but then I would get worse again.

Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. So he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefitted by its use.

There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui.

I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

You can rely absolutely on Cardui,
the woman's tonic.

For more than 50 years, practically an average life time, it has been going right to the seat of most forms of womanly trouble, building up the weakened organs to their natural state, thereby restoring strength and health.

In this half century of time, it has helped more than a million women.
Why shouldn't it do the same for you?

the necessary labor, both mental and physical, could not have lived there to do the work. When his demonstration was put into effect to protect American cities from such conditions as once nearly wiped Memphis, Tennessee off the map, ignorance was there with its protest and said it was all wrong to prevent God's little mosquitoes from reproducing their kind by spraying the stagnant waters with oil. But, thanks to the physician who gave his life for an idea, yellow fever is a thing of the past in communities wise enough to have an educated health commissioner.

Mortality Reduced

I remember most vividly a personal experience. There was an epidemic of typhoid fever. A boy that I loved was stricken with it. I was ordered by the only physician in the place, who was working night and day, to "Go read up on the Brand treatment (then a new thing) and get busy and save that boy's life." I did read up and found that the mortality of typhoid fever treated in the old way was twenty-eight out of every hundred. With this new and seemingly radical treatment it had been reduced to eight out of every hundred. Every time the boy's fever got up to 103 degrees I put him into the cold bath and cut it down.

When I put him into the cold water the cry of ignorance which went up from well-meaning neighbors was awful to hear. "You will kill that boy!" "You ought to know better!"
"You are nothing but a brute!" Such as this mingled with the boy's pitiful plea of "Take me out! Oh take me out! I am freezing!" was enough to impress itself upon one's memory.
But after I had reduced his temperature to 100 I took him out and rubbed him good and again put him to bed. His temperature fell immediately to normal and he went into a peaceful sleep for a few hours. I felt repaid and repeated the treatment each day until his danger period had passed.

Temptations Strong

Much of my life since those days has been spent in close contact with physicians. I have had the confidence of many of them. As a class there are no more conscientious, well-informed and hardworking men, notwithstanding the fact that it probably offers temptations greater than those of any other business, in which men could engage. This is true simply because of the ever present necessity of dealing with ignorance. If I was a physician, of course, I could not say this, but as I am not, let it stand as the opinion of one who is not professionally interested and therefore in a better position to be unbiased.

That some men who have been honored by a real medical college, with the right to call themselves a doctor of medicine, should fall from the pathway of conscientiousness when appreciation of their efforts is lacking and the necessity for money is great is not to be wondered at. It often happens that the patient starts to get well just after the first doctor has been discharged and the new one has taken hold. Perhaps this recovery is the result of the first man's treatment which was due to take place but the second man of course gets the benefit even if he happens to be a doctor in name and appearance only. Such discouragements may cause some of the weak ones to "go after the money." But I have seen many well-informed physicians remain in practical poverty for years and patiently watch medical fakery accumulate a fortune.

The Law of Compensation
That such conditions should cause physicians to seek to co-operate to the end that by legislation the public may be protected from superstitious ignorant treatment, and the battle front against disease thereby pushed forward, is not to be unexpected. That they may become overzealous and attempt too much in this line is also easily possible because of the very presence of ignorance which must of course exist to maintain the necessary balance. For the law of compensation is the law of God.

Microscope Advances Truth

Since the science of medicine has advanced to its present stage of development by the knowledge gained by the microscope it has become possible to know some things about the causes of disease which to those who have no knowledge of what can be seen with such an instrument is probably unbelievable. The microscope enlarges twelve hundred times.
(Twelve hundred diameters.) This really opens up a new world for study. There is now positively no doubt about some of the causes for these toxic unbalances called illness.
Physicians actually know that the presence of typhoid bacilli in milk or water will cause typhoid fever in case the person who drinks such water or milk is not temporarily or permanently immune.

They actually know beyond any possible doubt that scarlet fever is caused in much the same manner. It has also been proven many thousand times that the liability of death resulting from a case of diphtheria can be lessened more than three quarters if not almost entirely prevented by the injection into the body of diphtheria anti-toxine which balances the poison developed in the system by the diphtheria germ and saves the person.

Disease Prevented
It is also a fact that during the first onset of diphtheria it is almost impossible to tell it from ordinary sore throat. It takes the microscope to tell which it really is. For such work we need and must have a health commissioner who is a bacteriologist and who is prepared at all times to do such work in the quickest and surest manner. The spread of consumption is prevented in the same way. We need him to test the milk which our babies must have, to live.

Lives of Babies Saved
By the employment of such men for such work the death rate for infants in all of the larger cities has been reduced until it is even safer to raise a baby on a bottle in the city than it is in the country. This was not so by any means until physicians of honor and integrity fought for it a long time and finally secured the necessary ordinances and the establishment of well equipped health departments.

Those who do not believe that medical science is making parts of the world a better place and a safer place to live in should learn of the present condition of the city of Havana, Cuba, and compare it with the days when the Spanish held sway there. It is almost a health result now whereas it was a pest hole of disease then.

People Live Longer Now

While knowledge has not and in all probability will never be able to stay the hand of death the average length of human life has been lengthened. More men and women live to a ripe old age now than even fifty years ago. Hundreds of thousands of lives are being rendered more worth the living by the lessening of suffering. Thousands of those who would otherwise have gone through life deformed and crippled have been rendered almost whole and normal by surgery.

With it all the day of drugs seems to be passing to some extent. The best physicians use less and less drugs in their practice and more and more people are taught and aided to avoid the dangers of that awful abyss which yawns on either side of the "Balance of toxins"—health.
The best physicians are not content with being healers but have gone on to the pleasant and more advanced field of the prevention of disease.
Let us not be guilty of ingratitude.
Not to be thankful for the benefits of these years and years of study and toil is beneath the dignity of real men. Let us not charge them with seeking to plunder the unfortunate lest some one should suggest that we are shouting "Stop thief!" after we have stolen the jewels from the altar.

A good deal of Ab Adkins' kin lives back east; but Ab says he knows enough about them not to worry greatly about the inheritance tax law.

Getting Round It

A famous mountaineer said of mountain climbing at a dinner in Brooklyn:
"Peaks that seem inaccessible may be climbed by turns and twists. Mountain climbing is a question of getting around the bad places. Getting around your difficulty—that is the secret of mountain climbing. Liszt, the great musician, had the ability to get around things; hence I am sure he'd have made a good mountaineer. Once at a dinner Liszt's hostess cried in a horrified voice that there were thirteen at table.

"Don't let that alarm you, madam," said Liszt, with a reassuring smile;
"I'll eat for two."

Do You Envy Others Their Health?

Every man or woman whose blood is watery and impure shows it by the languid step and listless out, used-up air of the sick person. It is impossible for the bloodless person to be well, active and strong. When the blood is bad the body is weak and helpless against disease. The stomach is deprived of its source of strength and gets out of order. It can no longer properly nourish the body. The liver becomes sluggish, the brain dull and the complexion pale and sallow. Thin, impure blood is therefore a standing invitation to sickness. It is an open door that the grip, malaria, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism and nervous troubles find easy to enter and prostrate the defenseless body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will build up and purify the blood until it becomes a healthy-bearing stream. No part of the body can escape their beneficial influence. Their effect is general and soon the appetite picks up, the digestion becomes good, the eyes brighten, the liver becomes active and the skin takes on a healthful tint.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

are the best medicine you can take for anemia, after-effects of the grip and fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion and nervous troubles. Send today for our free booklet on "Building Up the Blood." A diet booklet, containing a chapter on the treatment and cure of constipation is also free. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 or will be sent, postpaid, upon receipt of price by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

EXPLAINS REFORM IN SIMPLE WAY

Ohio Representative Gives Bird's-eye View of New Currency Bill

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Declaring that explanations of the currency bill so far have not been simple enough to acquaint Mr. Common People of the exact way in which its provisions will affect him, Representative Bukeley of Ohio, veteran democrat of the house banking committee today gave to the United Press a "bird's-eye view" of the Wilson-Glass measure. He said he desired that the "man in the overalls" as well as the bankers and financiers, be advised what effect the bill will have. Bukeley's "simplified" exposition of the bill follows:

BY ROBERT J. BULKELEY (Representative from Ohio) The Wilson-Glass bill will free the currency and credits of the country from the domination of any business group; place the reserves of our banks where they will do the most good; prevent the piling up of the country banks' resources in Wall street to support stock exchange operators; provide a safe and sound government currency adequate in volume to the needs of the country's business, and make it possible for the small business man to obtain through competition such credit accommodation as his business and character merit.

Not Easy Problem The problem is not an easy one and financial sharps have been puzzled for years to suggest the sort of reform that is needed in our banking and currency laws. The Aldrich monetary commission worked two years trying to solve the problem and failed. But the present bill meets with general favor and bids fair to be favorably reported from our committee after all details shall have been thoroughly threshed over and passed within the next few weeks. The Glass bill provides for elasticity of currency, mobilization of reserves and government control of the nation's financial affairs.

What will be its effect? First, there will be fewer financial panics. No manipulation of the money market to create artificial stringency will be possible, because interest rates, volume of currency and extensions of credit will all be controlled in the interest of the public government board. There will be no ground for the fear and distrust which sometimes brings on panics, because everyone will know that enough currency and enough credit will always be available to meet all legitimate needs.

No Substitute Money The workingman will always get his pay in government currency as good as gold and will not be asked to accept clearing house checks or other credit substitutes, because employers will always be able to get the currency which their business justifies.

The small business man will be able to borrow at a lower rate, and to secure more adequate accommodations because the banks will feel more free to invest into the commercial paper of their local communities, knowing that they can immediately realize on this paper by rediscounting whenever they may want to do so.

Short Season for Outing Clothes "Are you going away this summer?" asked Reginald. "I'm afraid not," replied Claude Algernon. "I don't believe I'll get away from the shop even long enough to have a picture taken of me in my outing clothes."—Washington Star.

The man who is well balanced is naturally the one who isn't easily upset.

FAIL TO REPORT CASES

DISCOVER SURPRISING PREVALENCE OF WHITE PLAGUE IN WISCONSIN BY NEW METHOD

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—Evidence both of the surprising prevalence of tuberculosis in Wisconsin and of the failure of physicians to report cases is furnished by the state board of health. About two weeks ago Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board, devising a new method of securing reports, sent a report blank to every physician in the state, together with a letter telling of the importance of registration of cases. These were sent to 2,458 physicians, and thus far over 5,000 cases of tuberculosis have been reported by 1,500 of these physicians.

The board has been so successful that the board may adopt the system of securing reports direct from the physicians themselves. It is estimated there are approximately 12,500 cases of tuberculosis in Wisconsin. The physicians of the state reported only 1,205 during the calendar year 1912, and of these, 875 were reported from Milwaukee county.

The state board of health will certify next week the fees of physicians, ministers, midwives and local registrars to the county treasurers for reporting marriages, births, deaths and accidents. The aggregate amount last year was between $55,000 and $60,000. The fee for each case reported is 25 cents, while local registrars are paid 20 cents for recording each birth, death, marriage or accident certificate sent them.

Obstinate Acne Quickly Yields

Fine Remedy that Clears Skin of Pimples on Cheeks, Temples, Sides of Nose and Chin.

Acne attacks the glandular structure of the skin, more particularly those tiny glands that secrete fat. And it is here that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier is most active in its influence.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. the purpose of which it is to stimulate the cells in the tissues that they select from the blood the nutriment that makes new skin and thus eliminates all irritants, acids and parasites that inflame the glands. There is a natural tendency of the fine network of impure vessels in the skin to throw off inflammation, but where a persistent inflammation process has invaded the skin, the natural repair work of the blood is interfered with. It requires the stimulating activity of S. S. S. to overcome such morbid conditions. If you have been troubled with acne, do not despair of a cure.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. Take no chance with a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist, freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 181 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

IN The WORLD OF WOMEN

King Showfa Maha Vajiravudh, ruler of Siam, is now said to be facing a revolt among his several hundred wives, because his most recent acquisition was a Siamese girl who was reared in England and educated in doctrines of the suffragists. She is reported to be waging a suffrage campaign among her co-wives.

A delegation of nine young women from the schools of Idaho, Oregon and Washington, chaperoned by Mrs. G. L. Barkley, of Kittitas county, Wash., recently called upon Mayor Blankenburg in Philadelphia to urge the sending of the Liberty Bell to the Panama-Pacific exhibition in 1915.

Several up-to-date New York women who passed the civil service examination for positions in the Fire Prevention bureau have announced their intention of testing the legality of the appointments made of men to fill the posts, because the men who secured the places made lower marks in the examinations.

The Rhode Island Federation of Women's clubs is publishing a book under the title of "Home Economics" for women who want to manage their homes in the most efficient way.

The Countess Eugenia Hildegard Von Boos of the old German family of Boos zu Waldeck, whose country home is at New Brunswick, N. J., has for two years been devoting her time to helping the poor of Philadelphia, providing food, clothing and medical attention to men and women of all sorts, including prisoners in the city jails.

Perhaps even the bigamist may discover that man cannot serve two masters.

START AUTO CAMPAIGN

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—The prohibition state committee has instituted an automobile campaign to unite all the forces opposed to the liquor traffic. The tour will start from this city next Sunday. The principal speaker will be Frederick W. Corbett of Lansing, Mich. Dane county towns will be visited first, after which the party will pass over into Iowa county, and the following two weeks will be spent touring Iowa, Grant, Lafayette, Green and Rock counties. The campaign will start in Madison tonight with a meeting in the assembly chamber.

REGULATES SALE OF POOR SEEDS

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—A stringent law regulating the sale of fraudulent seeds in the state has just been signed by Gov. McGovern. The bill was drawn by Prof. R. A. Moore of the agricultural experiment station and requires the exact labeling of the purity of the seeds on each container. Inspectors of the agricultural department are required to collect samples of seeds on the open market and to prosecute in the name of the state those against whom evidence of dishonesty and fraud is secured.

FRENZIED BALL SEEN IN CANADA

Western Canada League Writhes Under Lash of Mr. Franklin M. Gray

ESTABLISHES SELF AS DICTATOR

Expels and Suspends and Confiscates Franchises at Own Sweet Will

BY EDWARD F. HUGHES.
 SASKATOON, June 27.—(Special.)—New curves in the art of high handed financing and manipulation of a baseball league, which places the Three magnates in the light of kindergarten amateurs on a baseball exchange, have started something in western Canada. Entirely safely behind his breastworks in Edmonton, Franklin M. Gray, chief mogul of the Western Canada Baseball league, is writing baseball history of a new variety while a staff of private secretaries are busily engaged suspending managers, fining presidents and confiscating franchises at the despotic dictation of the chief executive.

Casualties of the derailment of the W. C. B. L., to date, are as follows:

Casualties
 Expelled from league—One club president.
 Expelled from organized baseball—One manager and thirteen players.
 Suspended from the league—Two managers.
 Fines—One president $200.
 Franchises forfeited to league—One.

At the opening of the season Franklin M., a red hot fan by the way, decided that he wanted to be something more than a fan but unwieldy proportions prevented his donning a uniform. This was a handicap not to be easily overcome and Franklin turned his efforts into other channels. Then it suddenly occurred to the present chief that a baseball diamond was absolutely essential and who was to furnish the diamond? Franklin M., to be sure. That was the easiest way to get in on the ground floor and while he was procuring a diamond why not buy a baseball team as well. And that is just what Franklin did.

When the meeting of interested parties was held Franklin M. was on hand and easily convinced the others that Edmonton should boast of the presidency of the league, as the largest city in the prairie provinces. The board of control was formed and new prominence was handed to Mr. Gray in the form of the presidency.

All was smooth sailing for the first few weeks but Mr. Gray soon discovered that there was little enjoyment to sitting calmly by watching the Saskatoon Quakers mounting the ladder while the Gray Birds fluttered about with glass wings, near the bottom window. At about the same time Mr. Gray discovered that average attendance of 1,000 per day at four bits a ticket would not permit fourteen men teams and a goodly sized dividend at the first home.

The First Bomb
 It was then that the first of a series of bombs was exploded by Franklin M. Without consulting the board he announced that in the future Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, Regina and Saskatoon would be represented by 12 men and the salary limit would be $1,500.

Active warfare started when Manager Hurley of Saskatoon was expelled from organized baseball because he refused to report to the president. The next day President Cairns of the Saskatoon club was kicked completely out of the league by Mr. Gray and his franchise confiscated to the league because Hurley had referred Gray to Cairns on the salary proposition.

Not satisfied with grabbing Saskatoon's team, Gray declared that the uniforms were also confiscated and while the team's connection with Saskatoon was severed they would still wear Quaker suits.

Then the Quakers rebelled and were blacklisted in a body. The president of the Regina club was fined $100 for sending a telegram to Gray asking for the reinstatement of the Saskatoon players. Then came the suspension of the manager of the Regina team and another $100 fine for the president for exceeding the salary limit.

Suspends Own Manager
 To make the situation still more thrilling for the indignant fans, Franklin then decided to suspend his own manager for the same offense. The latest bomb to be hurled at the club owners is Gray's declaration that no meeting of the board of control can be held until he gets ready

SUFFRAGE MEANS MORE INTELLIGENCE

George Fitch Sees Advantage to Public of Voting by the Women

PEORIA, Ill., June 27.—Woman suffrage means more intelligence in elections, according to George Fitch, humorist and progressive republican in the legislature from the Eighteenth district. Informed that Governor Dunne had signed the woman suffrage bill, Representative Fitch wrote the following statement today for the United Press:

BY GEORGE FITCH.
 Suffrage in Illinois means more intelligence in our elections. No one who watched the women's lobbies in Springfield on suffrage, shorter hours, and minimum wage will deny this. The women's lobby for suffrage had more intelligence in it than all the men's lobbies put together. It was a scientific appeal to reason, common sense, and fair play. Three women did what thousands have failed to do in many campaigns in other states because they used business methods. They came to Springfield knowing all that could be known of the records, beliefs, prejudices, family, church and business ties and personal peculiarities of every legislator. They studied him psychologically before they went at him politically. As a result some of the men who voted for suffrage are still wondering in a dazed sort of way how they came to do it.

If the women of Illinois go at the ballot as intelligently as they went at the job of getting it, general suffrage in this state means more for

CALEDONIA, MINN.

Mr. Edward Sheek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheek of Sheldon, was married to Miss Lillian Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland, also of Sheldon. The groom is one of the proprietors of the Caledonia Roller mills, and the bride has been a most successful teacher in some of the best rural districts in this county. They are a very popular couple among their friends and will make their home in Sheldon. They left for Minneapolis on their wedding trip.

Mr. Nicholas Theisen of this township and Miss Alice Gertrude Howard of Yucatan was married by Rev. Fr. Madden at St. John's Catholic church yesterday. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Howard, and the groom by his cousin, Mr. Dress of Dubuque, Iowa. The newly wedded couple departed the same day for Dubuque, where they will visit relatives and on their return here will be at home on a farm three miles north of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. August Shulte returned last evening from their wedding trip.

Mrs. R. D. Sprague entertained a dozen ladies at a porch party in honor of her cousin, Mrs. W. M. Collier of La Crosse, who has been here guest the past few days.

Mrs. L. O. Palmer and children of La Crosse are spending a few weeks with relatives in Portland.

Mr. Dave Schlicht and son Francis spent yesterday in La Crosse.

Mrs. R. S. Mackintosh and daughter Mary returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit with friends in Hastings, Minn.

Mr. C. A. Patchin of Springfield, Minn., was the guest of friends here the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Belden and son arrived yesterday to visit the W. D. Belden family.

Mr. Chas. Leighton returned to his home in Austin, after a two days' visit with relatives here. His sons Myron, Arthur and Cleo will remain for a several weeks' visit with relatives.

Miss Lottie Speaker returned to Minneapolis after a week's visit with Miss Freda Bennewitz and other friends here.

Mr. Leland Duxbury is home to spend the summer from his studies at the Harvard university at Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Ove Hoegh of Spring Grove was a caller here yesterday.

NEW COMPENSATION LAW IN EFFECT

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—(Special.)—Governor McGovern yesterday signed the new workmen's compensation act, which will go into full effect September 1st of this year. While the principle of the act remains the same as that of 1911, several important changes in detail have been made by the 1913 legislature. All of these changes were made upon recommendation of the industrial commission, which administers the law. The act as amended will have the effect after September 1st., of providing compensation in the event of injuries suffered during the course of employment, for practically every industrial working man and working woman in the state. Heretofore this compensation has been provided to employees only in case their employers had elected to abide by the terms of the act. Under the new act, every employer of four or more persons will be subject to the provisions of the workmen's compensation act unless he specifically elects not to be so subject to the act.

to call it and in the meantime the pastimers are enjoying a mid-summer vacation at the expense of the magnates.

Gray has entirely ignored a telegram from Secretary Farrell of the national commission in which he states that the W. C. league is entitled to fourteen men and any league rule in conflict is void.

GET BANK ROBBER WITH ALL OF LOOT

MARSHFIELD, Ore., June 27.—Ray Diamond, the Glendale bank robber, was arrested in Gold Beach on Thursday. He had the entire amount taken from the bank, $3,200, in his possession. The money was found in his shoes and tied in rolls around his legs. Diamond walked into the Glendale bank ten days ago and forced the cashier, who was well acquainted with him, to hand over the money from the vault.

ELKS' ROOF GARDEN TO OPEN TOMORROW

The Elks club roof garden will open for the season tomorrow night with a stag party for the members of the club. The garden, located on the roof of the fine club building, is a delightful place to spend a hot summer evening and it is expected to become very popular. A little vaudeville will add to the entertainment tomorrow evening.

WAS RAFFLING BABY

CHICAGO, June 27.—The police today took up the search for a woman who is reported to have visited several hundred homes of childless married couples, offering tickets on a "baby raffle."

FOUND GUILTY OF SMOTHERING CHILD

WINNIPEG, Man., June 27.—Victor Cyril Pople, 22 years old, was found guilty of murder at assizes court here. He smothered to death the 3 year old child of Mrs. Eva May Willis last April in a boat on the banks of the Red river here. Mrs. Willis was Pople's sister-in-law and she lived at his house. Her child was an annoyance in the boarding house, so Pople killed it.

MAY ERECT NEW SCIENCE SCHOOL

SPARTA, Wis., June 27.—The purchase by the Franciscan Sisters of several acres of land at the southeast corner of the intersection of Wisconsin and Black River streets, which is immediately across the street east from the fair grounds, from Henry Schaller, has given rise to rumors that the Sisters will erect on this land a domestic science school that will excel in size and equipment anything in this line in the state, and that there will be room left and plans made for the addition of a boys' school, at such time in the future as it may become feasible. The location is ideal for this sort of a school as there are all the advantages of a quiet country location and it is well within the city limits. The present domestic science school and convent is much too small to accommodate the students who seek admission and this made the re-location of the school immediately necessary. Just what will be done with the old school building, which is next to the Catholic church in this city, is not announced, although Dame Rumor has an answer again in the form of a whisper that it will be turned into a hospital and conducted by the Sisters and used by local physicians. It is said that at the time the convent was remodeled and an addition built thereto a few years ago, it was done with a view to altering the building into a hospital at some future time and that it is so arranged as to make an ideal hospital, with operating rooms and wards and private rooms. Sparta has been in great need of a hospital for some years and patients

KIPLING LAUREATE IS QUEEN'S CHOICE

Rudyard Kipling.

The question of who will succeed Alfred Austin as poet laureate is just now a very interesting one in England. Queen Mary favors Rudyard Kipling, and so does King George. The Unionist party undoubtedly would support his candidacy, but Premier Asquith holds the general Liberal view that Kipling is too pronounced a partisan for the office.

and doctors have been obliged to get along with a make-shift conducted in an old house near the Milwaukee depot. Local physicians and others have several times attempted to induce a widow or two, whose husbands have died and left them with more money than they knew what to do with, to become philanthropists and make a gift to the city in the form of land and a building, or money, for a hospital; but have been unsuccessful and have given up in despair. With a little encouragement, Sparta would become quite an operating center as the entire county and several adjoining counties have no hospital for operations and are tributary to this city, and local physicians are entirely competent to do this work.

Wedding Epidemic

An epidemic of weddings seems to have struck the county and County Clerk Talbot is on the verge of prostration and is in continual fear of writer's cramp, as a result of making out marriage licenses the past week. Court house loafers say that Talbot has been so busy that he has permitted his pipe to go out on three different occasions during the past week. Benny Shlimovitz started things when he went to Milwaukee on Sunday of last week and took as his wife, Miss Goldie Chetichik of that city. Charles Roy then went up to Winona and was married to Miss Sidna Holden at the home of the bride's parents. Then the Rev. Willett, a Methodist minister of West Midway, Massachusetts, bringing his brother, the Rev. G. Willett of Trempealeau, to perform the ceremony, came and married Miss Hazel Nicol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nicol at the family home on West Montgomery street. Then came a young man named William Felkner, an accountant in the office of the Vandebec Ice company of St. Paul, bringing along Bert Broadwell and a few friends, and on Tuesday at five noon, at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. L. A. Brenner married him and Miss Ruth Dalaba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dalaba of this city. In the meantime, doing up the washing for the week beginning the 15th, Dean Holloway rolled down his sleeves, put on a clean collar and went to Bayfield, Wis., and was married to Miss Gertrude Andreas of that city. A few days before, Elmer Menn of Norwalk married Miss May Nicol of this city and that furnished Norwalk's contribution. Cashton contributed its mite in the form of the wedding of Cornelius Cremer and Miss Kathryn Broddy, and Wilton shouted, "Count one for me," when R. S. "Dick" Serrurier, assistant cashier of the Wilton State bank, took the night train south and Wednesday forenoon married Miss Clara Miller of Cobb, Wis. Kendall was struck by a protracted dry spell and the returns from Tomah are not yet in. Mr. and Mrs. Shlimovitz are at home to their friends in the Farley house on Jefferson avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Roy will be at home some time in August in the Flock house on West Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Holloway will soon be at home in the Gartman house on Pearl street. Mr. and Mrs. Willett will reside in West Midway, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Felkner will be at home in St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Serrurier will live in Wilton and Mr. and Mrs. Menn at Norwalk.

Rockland Booming

The village of Rockland, which has been experiencing accelerated business activities for the past year or more, still continues to make rapid strides toward becoming a business center. The creamery has a sewer laid to Fish creek and which is completed. John Erickson has sold his store to Holmstad, who was formerly in partnership with Nels Berg. A number of new houses are in process of erection and more are contemplated. Oswald Evans, the local Boniface, has had as high as thirty people to one meal. The McEachrons have closed their elevator for the summer and John Wolf, the manager, has returned to Sparta. A petition is being circulated requesting that a vote be taken at the annual school meeting of the school district in the village, on the question of removing the school house, which is now located some forty rods west of the village, into the village proper. The school is now located near the Fish Creek bridge on the road to Bangor and it would seem to be a good move to get it into the village proper where it will be handier to a greater number of the pupils. It will also give the village a better appearance. Building lots continue to sell and the business outlook is very bright.

Sparta Brevities

J. P. Rice was a business caller at Wyeville Wednesday.

John Goerbing and Attorney W. M. Gleiss of Tomah were in the city on Wednesday.

Agent Henry J. Laufenberg of the C. M. & St. P. Ry. at Rockland, was a business caller in Sparta on Thursday afternoon.

Ed. Crossen of the Irish Valley, returned from Milwaukee Thursday morning and spent the day in the city.

G. F. Haldemann of Norwalk was in town Wednesday.

Mayor and Mrs. John Bowen of Barron are visitors among relatives in the city. Mrs. Bowen underwent an operation for a tumor at the home of D. Hemstock Thursday.

A hard wind Tuesday did much damage among the trees in the city, blowing down several large limbs in

DIX MENTIONED FOR JOB IN PHILIPPINES

John A. Dix.

John A. Dix, former governor of New York, was suggested a few days ago to the president by Senator O'Gorman as a good man for the place as governor general of the Philippines. An able man is required for this place while the Democrats are working out the problem of independence for the natives, and Mr. Dix is said to fill the bill.

the court yard and one in front of a house owned by Attorney Z. S. Rice on South Court street.

H. W. Jefferson and Attorney T. P. Abel, accompanied by their wives and Mr. and Mrs. Art Jensen and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barlow, spent Wednesday at Lytle, making the round trip in their automobiles.

Dr. H. H. Williams was a business caller at Waukesha Thursday.

Miss Rachael Ford is home from Chicago for the summer vacation.

W. H. VanAntwerp, Major R. A. Richards and S. R. Burroughs spent a few days this week at the Rod and Gun club's shanty in the town of New Lyme.

S. D. Edwards and wife spent a few days this week in their cottage at Lytle.

Joseph Blakeney who was knocked unconscious when a thirty foot ladder was blown by the wind from a building on the K. W. Thurston farm and struck him on the head, is able to be about again.

Joseph Joffers, Sr., of Wilton, was in the city Tuesday afternoon.

H. H. S. club was pleasantly entertained at the farm home of Chas. Millard Thursday afternoon.

SMALLPOX CASE APPEARS IN COURT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 27.—Vaccine shields and points were at a premium in Judge Gregory's branch of the civil court on Thursday, and pandemonium reigned when it was discovered that Owen Williams, a witness who complained of being ill, was found to have smallpox. Judge, jury and court officers were vaccinated on the spot.

POINCARÉ RETURNS

LONDON, June 27.—President Poincaré of France, after a three day visit in England this afternoon sailed from Dover for home aboard the steamship Pas de Calais. Three British naval aeroplanes joined the warships that escorted the president across the channel.

DUNN BALLOT LAW PASSED BY SOLONS

Kneen Bill Amending and Perfecting the Former Measure Goes Through

The Kneen bill changing and perfecting the coupon ballot law passed the legislature this week. Under the new law it will cost but little over half as much to furnish the coupon ballot as under the first law that was passed.

It is made much more convenient for election officers in several particulars. The old "check label" feature is abandoned. It is sealed with a "ballot seal" now which bears the date of the election and the place for numbering the ballot. This enables the county clerk to preserve the envelopes and use them again at much less expense or trouble than to order new ones made each year.

The ballot clerks will have nothing to do under the new form except to give each qualified voter a ballot and one of them must see that he does not leave any part of it in the booth.

Perhaps the biggest improvement is provided for in the tally sheets which gave considerable trouble before because of spaces being too small and the necessity of carrying footings forward through eight or ten sheets. The tally sheets will now be so made that it will not be necessary to carry forward any footings. The sheets are to be so arranged that the footings of each sheet will be in sight one just above the other in a step ladder fashion. This will save one-half the time of the counting as compared with the first trial.

The work of the county clerk in sending out ballots and other things to election precincts is made much easier by the furnishing of "preparation boxes" in which the ballots and envelopes and other articles are to be sent out and into which all must be placed and sealed for return. This will save the buying of considerable material each election by furnishing a method of saving it for use next time.

The law is also changed so as to comply with the "non partisan" city election law and made subject to the adoption of city authorities for use in cities, at city elections. Its adoption for use in general elections is as before, by county boards. It will not apply to primary elections. The new law also provides that the party name must be printed in large type lengthwise across the face of each party sheet. The new ballot will be made without the step ladder index at the top. It will be cut square at top each sheet the same length.

PENN TURNERS ARE FAVORITES

DENVER, Col., June 27.—The second day of athletic contests of the International Bundes turnfest today found the Pittsburgh turnveterans strong popular favorites, although teams from Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Indianapolis and Davenport, Iowa, were regarded as strong contenders.

This morning the sixty-three turnveterans which participated in yesterday's program were on the turnplatz again competing in other branches. Yesterday's events were largely preliminary, the real athletic exercises beginning this morning with horizontal and parallel bar work, the horse and ring jumping. This afternoon's events will include discus throwing, fencing, swimming, wrestling, boxing and several running events.

Imagination is what helps a young thing to refer to any old job as a career.

The man who is his own worst enemy is a paradox, for he thereby goes back on his best friend.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, June 27.—The official showing on the Kansas wheat crop, contained in the state report made public today was below expectations and caused a rush of buying at the outset. Consequently wheat prices rose 1-4 to 8-8c at the start and had further fractional advance. Toward the close the market was easier on reports of rains through the day and prices receded, though maintaining the opening advance.
Dispatches from the southwest claimed that the hot weather was damaging the growing corn and caused a bull movement today, despite the fact that the heat wave was an aid in most localities. Offerings were scanty and July gained 3-8c and September a full cent during the morning after starting 5-8 to 3-4c higher.
Oats prices were sharply higher at the start with country houses doing considerable buying. Hot weather was reported to be threatening the crop in some sections.
Provisions were dull and a trifle easier on a lower hog market.
Wheat made fractional gains in the afternoon and closed firm, maintaining the gain at the outset today.
July corn turned 1-2c higher in the afternoon under buying pressure and with September closed strong and 7-8 to 1 1-8c higher than the day's opening.
July oats was a trifle easier and September a trifle advanced in the

THE GIFT OF BOOKS.

When I consider what some books have done for the world and what they are doing, how they keep up our hope, awaken new courage and faith, soothe pain, give an ideal life to those whose hours are cold and hard, bind together distant ages and foreign lands, create new worlds of beauty, I thank God for the gift of books.

LAJOIE ENDS HIS ACTIVE PLAYING

Famous Baseman Through as a Regular; Will Act as Pinch Hitter

CHICAGO, June 27.—Larry Lajoie, the greatest second baseman of all times, and considered by many the greatest ball player in the game, is through as a regular. This is the statement emanating from the Naps headquarters here and it is said to have come directly from Manager Birmingham. Larry has slowed up considerably lately, and according to Manager Birmingham, will be benched in favor of Tuck Turner, utility infielder, who filled his shoes so completely while the big Frenchman was injured recently. It is expected Larry will be the principal pinch hitter from now on.

It is said Lajoie will be chief adviser also to Manager Birmingham. For eighteen years Larry has been a star in the national game. The big Frenchman came with the Naps in 1902, jumping the Philadelphia

National league team to join the Cleveland team, just then starting in major league baseball.

When this season started Lajoie was playing his greatest game in years. Everywhere the scribes dubbed him "Young Larry" and he seemed faster than ever on the field, while his batting average was around .400.

It was Klepper, New York Yankee recruit pitcher, that threw Larry off his stride. He broke two of the second baseman's fingers and Lajoie was out a month. When he returned he was not the same fielder and his batting also took a big slump.

In the meantime Cleveland lost to Chicago with Gregg in the box. The Naps pulled six errors. They are now so far behind it cannot be argued that the dust raised by the Athletics bother them.

With a lead of four runs in the sixth inning the Pirates were again nosed out in the finish and the Cardinals won by a one run margin. Koney's home run drive in the eighth with one on sewed up the game.

In taking both games of the double header from Washington the Athletics hit Griffith's pitchers for a total of 27 hits and 21 runs. The Mack men have scored 34 runs in their last three games.

Chicago 7; Cleveland 5

CHICAGO, June 27.—Overcoming a three-run lead which the visitors made in the first the White Sox defeated Cleveland here yesterday, 7 to 5. Score: R H E
Cleveland .302000000—5 7 6
Chicago .030103000—7 8 0
Batteries: Gregg and Carlisch; Walsh, Benz, Russell and Schalk.

Phila. 11-10; Washington 2-3

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Connie Mack's Athletics handed the Griffins a drubbing again yesterday that made the local fans wince. The score was 11 to 2. In the second game a similar drubbing was handed Bob Groom, who was knocked out of the box in the seventh inning. Scores: First game—R H E
Philadelphia .012000611—11 16 1
Washington .010001000—2 5 1

BOXING BILL GOES THROUGH SENATE

Bosshard Strongly Opposes Hedding Law Now Put Up to the Governor

MADISON, Wis., June 27.—(Special.)—After an hour's debate the senate yesterday afternoon passed the Hedding boxing bill. Senator

White of Winnebago county moved a reconsideration and the motion failed. This puts the bill up to Governor McGovern. The vote was preceded by a spectacular debate. Senator Bosshard denounced the measure as an attempt to legislate prize fighting in Wisconsin. He said the meaning of the bill might be good, but gradually "the blood appetite of audiences would become so strong that boxing bouts would give way to prize fights." Senator Kileen replied that the bill would make boxing a clean and wholesome sport. He said the bill would rid the game of all vicious features. Senator Ackley read a letter from the chief of police of Eau Claire favoring the measure.

Senator Teasdale in closing the debate against the bill said there was not a saloon in the state nor a gambler which did not want this bill passed, and he declared the best citizens in Wisconsin were opposed to it.

The vote was as follows:

For the bill—Senators Ackley, Al-

bers, Biehler, Burke, Cunningham,

Kellogg, Kileen, A. E. Martin, Perry,

Richards, Stevens, White, Zophy—

13.

Against—Senators Bosshard, Glenn,

Hoyt, Huber, Hustung, H. C. Mastin, Monk, Randolph, Teasdale, True

—10.

Prior to its passage an amendment was incorporated prohibiting the sale of liquor in buildings in which boxing bouts are held. Teasdale denounced the amendment as worthless, saying that a saloon would be established next door.
